Fund Shortage Investigated

DEXTER — Prosecuting Attorney Paul McGhee of Stoddard County said he is considering filing criminal embezzlement charges against Castor Township Collector Griff Koechig after auditors found a shortage of more than $12,000 in cash.

McGhee said Koechig resigned his post Tuesday after a meeting of the prosecuting attorney, representatives of the Missouri auditor's office, the Stoddard County Court, Koechig, and representatives of the collector's bonding company, the Western Surety Co.

"The bonding company told me they would pay the county the money necessary to cover the shortage," McGhee said. He added that he has prepared a civil suit against the firm and will file the action on Oct. 10 if the county has not been reimbursed by that date.

McGhee said a final decision on whether he will file criminal charges will not be made until he receives a written report from the office of State Auditor Christopher (Kit) Bond.

The audit showed a shortage of $12,625.79 over a two-year period, McGhee said. Missing funds include monies from the Bloomfield, Dexter and Richland school districts and the Bluff Special Road District.

The collector's vacancy will be filled by appointment.

Wright To Head PCA

Robert A. Wright has been appointed president of Sikeston Production Credit Association, effective Sunday.

Wright formerly held the position of executive vice president and assistant secretary of Sikeston PCA. He will assume the position formerly held by Thatcher Scism, retiring president.

As president of the association he will head a central office staff and seven field offices serving Scott, New Madrid, Mississippi, Stoddard, Butler, Bollinger and Cape counties. The organization serves 2,000 farmers who will borrow in excess of $40 million in 1972 for production purposes.

The association dates back to 1933 and has loaned $355,952 as of June 30, and ranks second of 43 associations in dollars loaned in the sixth Farm Credit District comprised of Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas. It is an organization owned and operated by the farmer borrowers and has a net worth of $3,796,325,66.

Wright was born and reared on a farm near Annada. He is a 1957 graduate of Clopton High

Robert A. Wright

School and received a bachelor of science degree in animal husbandry from the University of Missouri. He is married to the former Miss LaVerne Adams of Whiteside. They are the parents of two sons, Ricky, 10, and Clinton, 7.

Wright started his credit training in the apprentice program early in 1962. He was one of the first to participate in this program.

His first position with the system was that of field representative with the Hannibal PCA. He then worked with St. Charles PCA; and, in 1966, he joined the staff of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Louis as a credit analyst.

In early 1969, he was promoted from credit analyst to credit representative of the FICB of St. Louis. One June 1, 1971, he accepted the position of executive vice president and assistant secretary of Sikeston PCA.

The association board of directors consists of five farmers elected by borrowing members. The directors are Paul Bradley, of New Madrid, chairman of the board; Charles Causey, of Bloomfield vice chairman; Louis Kalkbrenner of Poplar Bluff; Jimmy Bishop of East Prairie; and E.E. (Gene) Dement of Sikeston.

In Scott, New Madrid and the East Half of Stoddard County, the production credit office is managed by Gordon Hill, assistant vice president, who is assisted by Ken Walters, fieldman, and Eileen Sewald, and Paula Cunningham, field clerks. For the year ending 1971, Sikeston Production Credit office loaned $9,708,771.44 and served 372 farmers.

GOODBYE,
NON-RETURNABLES

Empty beer and soda cans line America's highways, bob along its rivers and overflow its city trash bins. Their "convenient" pop-top openers infest the landscape. Before ecology became a household word, the states were content to combat this problem with anti-litter campaigns. Last year, some states considered more stringent measures. The Oregon Legislature, known for its tough anti-pollutoin stands, passed the nation's first "bottle bill" in 1971. Barring a last-minute court injunction, the law will take effect Sunday, Oct. 1. It requires a cash deposit on all beverage containers sold, and bans the detachable pop-tops used to open most beer and soft-drink cans. Bottles certified for re-use by more than one company will have a two-cent value, but most containers will carry a five-cent deposit.

The new law is expected to eliminate completely the use of non-returnable bottles and cans in Oregon. Retailers must pay refunds on any containers returned to them, but they are hoping the job will be taken over by local redemption centers. While retailers expect to lose some business to neighboring states, their complaints are minor compared with those of wholesale businesses.

Container industry representatives have lobbied vigorously against bottle bills in many state legislatures and city councils. "Litter is caused by people and anti-litter efforts should be directed at people, not products or materials" -- the opinion of one plastics executive -- is a common industry argument. A group of local brewers, bottlers and can companies challenged the consitutionality of the Oregon law, but lost their case on Sept. 1 when a state circuit court judge declared the law valid. Friends and foes of anti-pollution legislation will be watching Oregon closely in the coming months.

CLICHE'S LAST
STAND, MAYBE

It's O.K. to use all kinds of four-letter words in print these days, but you'd better watch those cliches. They're bound to offend somone.

An example is an article which appeared recently in Health Services World, the employe magazine of the Health Services and Mental Health Administration, an agency of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The article dealth with the subject of hyperactive children and used the phrase, "yells like an attacking Indian," to describe the behavior of one such child.

This drew an outraged response from a number of readers, who yelled like — well, like Indians being attacked.

"We Americans are proud people," wrote one. "We don't care to be insulted in print with words like 'yells like an attacking Indian.' Yelling is not the way of the Indian."

The phrase, complained another wounded Indian, "was in poor taste and a very good example of stereotyped thinking on your part!"

They have a point. It has been a long time since Indians have either yelled or attacked anybody. It can also be argued that the white man did his own share of yelling and attacking.

Far better had the writer chosen some other phrase — "screams like a wailing banshee," perhaps.

But then the women's liberation movement, Irish division, would have been up in arms.

CONSTITUTION DAY

Awareness of the living influence of the United States Constitution has been heightened in the present generation in many ways. Average citizens who were barely aware of the Bill of Rights and the various articles and amendments have seen the patterns of their lives drastically changed by Supreme Court rulings, all based on the Constitution. At the same time, patterns of life have altered the document, the last case being the 26th Amendment which gave 18-year-olds the right to vote.

A TIME FOR UNDERSTANDING

Like many current expressions relative to the environment, the term, "Thermal pollution" is both disturbing and confusing to the layman. About all he clearly understands is that it has something to do with the discharge of warm water from power generating stations into streams and rivers. The belief is prevalent that this warm water can damage aquatic life.

An official of a large investor owned electric company has endeavored to clear away some of the misconceptions and "half-truths" surrounding the thermal question. The electric industry has been using water for cooling condensers for almost 90 years he points out. And the number of instances in which power plants have been directly responsible for harmful effects on any form of aquatic life could be listed on a very short page. However, this does not mean that a thermal problem does not exist. Ever=greater quantities of cooling water are to be utilized as the electric industry expands to meet energy demands. The power companies have been and are working unceasingly to determine the effects of warm water discharge and to devise the most efficient water cooling systems.

The utility official reviewed the costly and long-term projects of his company and others involved in resolving water use problems and stressed the need of telling the general public and utility customers what is being done to attain a compatible balance between the needs of man and his environment. Public misunderstanding may well pose a great threat to attaining that balance than anything else.

U. S. COMPANIES
HIKE OVERSEAS
PLANT OUTPUT

The investment by U. S. corporations, in production facilities overseas may in the next few years dramatically change the nature of world trade, Roland A. Erickson, executive vice president of General Foods Corporation, said recently.

This trend, he said, is producing a kind of "Economic internationalism, 'one world of business,' in which there would tend to be no economic national frontiers, and the primary rule governing the movement of goods and services would be the competitive forces of the marketplace."

Mr. Erickson addressed the Pennsylvania State University chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, at University Park.

In 1950, he explained, U. S. exports were about $10 billion, direct investment by U. S. corporations in overseas facilities was roughly $12 billion, and the production from these U. S. owned facilities was about $40 billion. By 1968, Mr. Erickson noted, these figures had risen to $35 billion, $64 billion and $200 billion, respectively. The $200 billion figure, he observed, is a volume of production larger than the national product of any country other than the United States and the Soviet Union.

By 1972, he added, the United States Gross National Product may be over $1 trillion a year, and the Gross National Product of the other non-COmmunist countries is expected to run at about the same rate. Of this $1 trillion in foreign Gross National Product, about $275 billion in free-world production is expected to arise from U. S. direct investment overseas.

UP TO THE CUSTOMER

Irrespective of the size of a business, a company or an industry, its existence depends upon satisfying its customers. Although there are those who claim that industry today has the consumers at its mercy, no such thing is possible as long as a free market exists. The New York Times Business and Financial Section, in a feature story on a number of products that have failed for lack of consumer acceptance, makes the obvious point that the consumer is still king so far as industry is concerned. And this applies to the biggest company as well as the smallest.

The story told of the " ... $250- million fiasco ... " of the Edsel Car and other products that have gone off the market for lack of buyers. They all provide examples of what can happen when consumers exercise their sovereign right to withhold patronage from a certain product. That product disappears from the market.

THE TRAGEDY
OF MUNICH

The 1972 Olympics have come and gone and they have not registered pretty pictures in the minds of the people of the world. Violence, alleged political blackmail and accusations of official cheating have all entered the spectrum of the games which were launched by the Greeks centuries ago as strictly athletic contests. They should always have been maintained in the spirit of competition on the field of sports.

There is no need to review the banishment of the athletes of Rhodesia simply because their government is under sanctions for alleged discrimination. Nor is it necessary to recall to a bereaved world the senseless slaughter of 11 members of the Israeli team by a group of international outlaws. History will establish proper monuments to these tragic events. Post mortem grief has touched the world.

It is the future of the Olympics that is now all -important. The future of these contests, as the Greeks intended them, will depend on the conscience and good will of men in the years to come. Somehow, anarchy must be eliminated. Mass slaughter of human beings is the ultimate breakdown of civilization. Denying a Rhodesian or A South African or any other competent athlete a chance at Olympic competetion because of the politics of his country is a denial of the dignity of man. The civilized world must never again participate in such narrowness.

The Olympics can serve mankind much more admirably than can the United Nations which is ridden with the corruption of political greed. The air is, or at least should be, cleaner on the tracks of international Olympic competition. Let all nations devote the next four years to cleaning that air. HLH

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON —Our favorite political pollster, Jimmy the Greek Snyder, says George McGovern is moving up on President Nixon but has little chance of overtaking him by November 7.

As the nation's No. 1 oddsmaker, therefore, Jimmy rates the President a 15 -to -1 favorite over McGovern. In California, Illinois, New York and Ohio --the key states McGovern must win to score an upset --Jimmy finds the President a 3 -to -1 favorite.

Only in the District of Columbia does Jimmy give McGovern the edge. But the Democratic candidate has a chance, in Jimmy's book, of winning Massachusetts, Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Jimmy's odds are based on elaborate, if unique, polling of politicians, political writers and key states. He also rates the two candidates by issues, image and support. Here are his calculations:

Issues —Foreign affairs, 10 -2 in Nixon's favor; business, 10 —2; military, 7—1; busing, 7—3; law and order, 9 —7; economy, 7—6; welfare, 7—7; farm subsidies, 8—10; federal spending, 7—7; and revenue sharing, 3—3.

Image —Recognition, 10 —8, in Nixon's favor; politician, 9—4; credibility, 7—3; charisma, 7—5 intelligence, 7—4; and religion, 9—8.

Support --Foreign support, 10 —1 in Nixon's favor; financial, 8 —2 1/2; Republican, 10 —1/2; big business, 10 —2; Jewish —Americans, 7— 3; independents, 6 —3; women, 6— 4; labor, 6 —4; youth, 5 —5; Democrats, 4 —6; and minorities, 3 —6.

--POLITICAL PUFFERY?--

With a trumpet blast of self -congratulation, the Nixon Administration recently announced a "landmark" accord with American Telephone and Telegraph to promote thousands of women, blacks and chicanos.

General Services Administrator Arthur Sampson, the federal housekeeper, declared triumphantly that "AT&T's affirmative action ... follows to the letter President Nixon's directives."

We have now learned that the happy accord not only falls short of the President's directives but was sternly rejected earlier by GSA's own civil rights office.

Last July, GSA's acting civil rights director , John Brosnahan, turned down Ma Bell's antidiscrimination plan. He wrote sharply to AT&T's equal employment head, D.M. Davis: "We have several areas of disagreement with the model you have proposed."

Brosnahan called AT&T's transfer plan "unacceptable" and rejected a three per cent goal for women in entry level jobs. "As we have stated many times," he wrote, "entry level jobs should have a goal of 38 per cent for women." He also found "all affirmative action plans submitted to GSA (by AT&T) provisionally unacceptable."

AT&T finally moved the women's goal up to 10 per cent, still far from the 38 per cent sought by GSA's civil rights office. But the telephone company could not be budged any further.

Nevertheless, in view of the political need to appease both women and the minorities, the Nixon Administration decided to ignore both its guidelines and its experts. On September 20, Sampson announced GSA had secured "one of the farthest reaching equal employment opportunity programs in American business."

Footnote: We asked GSA's civil rights director, E.E. Mitchell, why he let the agreement go through. He acknowledged there had been "differences of opinion at the highest levels in GSA" but said he had pounded out the best possible accord with AT&T. A spokesman for AT&T said the accord was reached after eight months of negotiations. "We feel it's a very progressive agreement," he said. "We've opened up a channel for every qualified employee to advance."

The enthusiasm at the Democratic convention for the national lettuce boycott hasn't impressed the Democrats who run the House restaurants. Nonunion western iceberg lettuce is still served in the House dining rooms. House Administration Chairman Wayne Hays, D —Ohio, who is in charge of the restaurants, tells us food purchases are determined by cost, not politics. "There's no law that says we have to comply with the boycott," he grumped ...Republican Roman Pucinski, who hails from the Democratic stronghold of Chicago, doesn't favor elephant stories. But he was so impressed with a small clay elephant, sculptured by an 11 -year -old constituent, that the congressman arranged for Orlando Rivera to present his clay elephant to President Nixon at the White House ...Vying for the seat of the late Rep. William Ryan, D —N.Y., is one of the hardest working members of Congress, drug expert Jim Scheuer, who was born in the district, and one of the loudest, militant feminists Bella Abzug. Both were beaten in Primary races, Ms. Abzug by Ryan in a nasty campaign. Now, the seat may wind up with Ryan's widow, Priscilla ...Representative Nick, Galifinakos, who is running for the Senate in North Carolina, has such a long and difficult name that it takes two campaign buttons to spell it out. He has issued one button with "Galifi" and another with "anakis" for his supporters to wear.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON —It was a saddening noon hour last Tuesday for the dedicated labor men who have been working their hearts out for Sen. George McGovern. At a political strategy conference in the big parley hall of the national AFL —CIO headquarters, these men had sat behind closed doors closed to all outsiders --and had heard from a national opinion analyst whom they trust, indeed, that the Dakotan would not carry "a single state."

These union political strategists had not come to this crucial gathering of the 32 members of their Committee on Political Education's (COPE) Operating Committee to discuss the "top of any ticket." They had come --in one of the wind -up sessions before the election --to plan the last -lap surge in key marginal districts so they can elect a Congress they consider "friendly." High on the agenda were "special problems" in New Jersey, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Rhode Island.

Mostly, they and their chief of chiefs, George Meany, listened silently. Most of them are for McGovern --or at least emotionally anti - Nixon --even if the chief is not. The election analyst to whom they have turned in many campaigns and who advises Meany personally is, in effect, though an outsider, their house expert.

He is a political scientist though none are so objective that they don't feel the urge to ease things a bit for their own side. And this analyst is a Democrat. But he saw no hope for McGovern.

He reported that in one Midwest state there had been a survey more than a poll, of 200 Democrats. All of them were anti -Nixon. But not one of them was for McGovern nor would they indicate whether they'd vote for their own top ticket.

The analyst, whose Elections Research Center is down the street here, said he saw President Nixon in trouble in only two states --New York and California.

The analyst observed that if Dick Nixon lost any states they would be the two giant ones. But the specialist did not actually believe the President would lose them.

But none of this doleful message to labor's inner sanctum strategists is turning off those who are dedicated to the Dakotan. They're doing their thing. They believe they can take New York, Ohio, Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania and California. And that they can close the McGovern gap with these labor -heavy states as a base. They're huddling around McGovern now that he has "come home" to revisit his campaign.

They scoff at the national building and construction trades union leaders who have endorsed President Nixon. The National Labor Committee for the Election of McGovern -Shriver claims support of the building and construction trades state federations of California, Missouri, Wisconsin and Ohio.

They report further support of high officials of such unions in 15 states, and even Teamster organizations; powerful and pulsating general labor committees in 42 states; and say the crowds they're whooping up at airports and union halls are far more significant than the polls showing Mr. Nixon unbeatable.

They do believe they can crunch down the gap. Certainly they're trying. Already they're prepared to pour between 20 and 25 million pieces of anti —Nixon literature into it. They have 140 "movies," some 40 of which are already widely distributed. They have an instant political press of their own --some 800 labor papers for which they prepare special weekly two -page inserts. They're getting their men, caravans and logistics into the streets, onto the daises of the right banquets and the key union halls, and in front of plant gates.

They do have endorsements of 41 national unions with fully half the membership of American organized labor. And they're pouring the heat on voter registration.

They know it may all be futile. Their supporters on COPE's Operating Committee heard in secret conference on Tuesday the opinion of their election specialist that traditionally the front -runner's poll percentages don't vary much after Labor Day --though the underdog generally closes the gap.

But they're truly fighting, flooding the nation with their literature, their energy, their expertise.

They're not deceiving themselves. They know their campaign actually hasn't gotten off the ground. They are hoping for a McGovern miracle. They are counting crowds --and these have been plentiful --not polls. They find the former more significant than the latter. So they are only just beginning to pour it on.

GOODBYE,
NON-RETURNABLES

Empty beer and soda cans line America's highways, bob along its rivers and overflow its city trash bins. Their "convenient" pop-top openers infest the landscape. Before ecology became a household word, the states were content to combat this problem with anti-litter campaigns. Last year, some states considered more stringent measures. The Oregon Legislature, known for its tough anti-pollutoin stands, passed the nation's first "bottle bill" in 1971. Barring a last-minute court injunction, the law will take effect Sunday, Oct. 1. It requires a cash deposit on all beverage containers sold, and bans the detachable pop-tops used to open most beer and soft-drink cans. Bottles certified for re-use by more than one company will have a two-cent value, but most containers will carry a five-cent deposit.

The new law is expected to eliminate completely the use of non-returnable bottles and cans in Oregon. Retailers must pay refunds on any containers returned to them, but they are hoping the job will be taken over by local redemption centers. While retailers expect to lose some business to neighboring states, their complaints are minor compared with those of wholesale businesses.

Container industry representatives have lobbied vigorously against bottle bills in many state legislatures and city councils. "Litter is caused by people and anti-litter efforts should be directed at people, not products or materials" -- the opinion of one plastics executive -- is a common industry argument. A group of local brewers, bottlers and can companies challenged the consitutionality of the Oregon law, but lost their case on Sept. 1 when a state circuit court judge declared the law valid. Friends and foes of anti-pollution legislation will be watching Oregon closely in the coming months.

CLICHE'S LAST
STAND, MAYBE

It's O.K. to use all kinds of four-letter words in print these days, but you'd better watch those cliches. They're bound to offend somone.

An example is an article which appeared recently in Health Services World, the employe magazine of the Health Services and Mental Health Administration, an agency of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The article dealth with the subject of hyperactive children and used the phrase, "yells like an attacking Indian," to describe the behavior of one such child.

This drew an outraged response from a number of readers, who yelled like — well, like Indians being attacked.

"We Americans are proud people," wrote one. "We don't care to be insulted in print with words like 'yells like an attacking Indian.' Yelling is not the way of the Indian."

The phrase, complained another wounded Indian, "was in poor taste and a very good example of stereotyped thinking on your part!"

They have a point. It has been a long time since Indians have either yelled or attacked anybody. It can also be argued that the white man did his own share of yelling and attacking.

Far better had the writer chosen some other phrase — "screams like a wailing banshee," perhaps.

But then the women's liberation movement, Irish division, would have been up in arms.

CONSTITUTION DAY

Awareness of the living influence of the United States Constitution has been heightened in the present generation in many ways. Average citizens who were barely aware of the Bill of Rights and the various articles and amendments have seen the patterns of their lives drastically changed by Supreme Court rulings, all based on the Constitution. At the same time, patterns of life have altered the document, the last case being the 26th Amendment which gave 18-year-olds the right to vote.

A TIME FOR UNDERSTANDING

Like many current expressions relative to the environment, the term, "Thermal pollution" is both disturbing and confusing to the layman. About all he clearly understands is that it has something to do with the discharge of warm water from power generating stations into streams and rivers. The belief is prevalent that this warm water can damage aquatic life.

An official of a large investor owned electric company has endeavored to clear away some of the misconceptions and "half-truths" surrounding the thermal question. The electric industry has been using water for cooling condensers for almost 90 years he points out. And the number of instances in which power plants have been directly responsible for harmful effects on any form of aquatic life could be listed on a very short page. However, this does not mean that a thermal problem does not exist. Ever=greater quantities of cooling water are to be utilized as the electric industry expands to meet energy demands. The power companies have been and are working unceasingly to determine the effects of warm water discharge and to devise the most efficient water cooling systems.

The utility official reviewed the costly and long-term projects of his company and others involved in resolving water use problems and stressed the need of telling the general public and utility customers what is being done to attain a compatible balance between the needs of man and his environment. Public misunderstanding may well pose a great threat to attaining that balance than anything else.

U. S. COMPANIES
HIKE OVERSEAS
PLANT OUTPUT

The investment by U. S. corporations, in production facilities overseas may in the next few years dramatically change the nature of world trade, Roland A. Erickson, executive vice president of General Foods Corporation, said recently.

This trend, he said, is producing a kind of "Economic internationalism, 'one world of business,' in which there would tend to be no economic national frontiers, and the primary rule governing the movement of goods and services would be the competitive forces of the marketplace."

Mr. Erickson addressed the Pennsylvania State University chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma, at University Park.

In 1950, he explained, U. S. exports were about $10 billion, direct investment by U. S. corporations in overseas facilities was roughly $12 billion, and the production from these U. S. owned faciilities was about $40 billion. By 1968, Mr. Erickson noted, these figures had risen to $35 billion, $64 billion and $200 billion, respectively. The $200 billion figure, he observed, is a volume of production larger than the national product of any country other than the United States and the Soviet Union.

By 1972, he added, the United States Gross National Product may be over $1 trillion a year, and the Gross National Product of the other non-COmmunist countries is expected to run at about the same rate. Of this $1 trillion in foreign Gross National Product, about $275 billion in free-world production is expected to arise from U. S. direct investment overseas.

UP TO THE CUSTOMER

Irrespective of the size of a business, a company or an industry, its existence depends upon satisfying its customers. Although there are those who claim that industry today has the consumers at its mercy, no such thing is possible as long as a free market exists. The New York Times Business and Financial Section, in a feature story on a number of products that have failed for lack of consumer acceptance, makes the obvious point that the consumer is still king so far as industry is concerned. And this applies to the biggest company as well as the smallest.

The story told of the " ... $250- million fiasco ... " of the Edsel Car and other products that have gone off the market for lack of buyers. They all provide examples of what can happen when consumers exercise their sovereign right to withhold patronage from a certain product. That product disappears from the market.

THE TRAGEDY
OF MUNICH

The 1972 Olympics have come and gone and they have not registered pretty pictures in the minds of the people of the world. Violence, alleged political blackmail and accusations of official cheating have all entered the spectrum of the games which were launched by the Greeks centuries ago as strictly athletic contests. They should always have been maintained in the spirit of competition on the field of sports.

There is no need to review the banishment of the athletes of Rhodesia simply because their government is under sanctions for alleged discrimination. Nor is it necessary to recall to a bereaved world the senseless slaughter of 11 members of the Israeli team by a group of international outlaws. History will establish proper monuments to these tragic events. Post mortem grief has touched the world.

It is the future of the Olympics that is now all -important. The future of these contests, as the Greeks intended them, will depend on the conscience and good will of men in the years to come. Somehow, anarchy must be eliminated. Mass slaughter of human beings is the ultimate breakdown of civilization. Denying a Rhodesian or A South African or any other competent athlete a chance at Olympic competetion because of the politics of his country is a denial of the dignity of man. The civilized world must never again participate in such narrowness.

The Olympics can serve mankind much more admirably than can the United Nations which is ridden with the corruption of political greed. The air is, or at least should be, cleaner on the tracks of international Olympic competition. Let all nations devote the next four years to cleaning that air. HLH

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON —Our favorite political pollster, Jimmy the Greek Snyder, says George McGovern is moving up on President Nixon but has little chance of overtaking him by November 7.

As the nation's No. 1 oddsmaker, therefore, Jimmy rates the President a 15 -to -1 favorite over McGovern. In California, Illinois, New York and Ohio --the key states McGovern must win to score an upset --Jimmy finds the President a 3 -to -1 favorite.

Only in the District of Columbia does Jimmy give McGovern the edge. But the Democratic candidate has a chance, in Jimmy's book, of winning Massachusetts, Minnesota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Jimmy's odds are based on elaborate, if unique, polling of politicians, political writers and key states. He also rates the two candidates by issues, image and support. Here are his calculations:

Issues —Foreign affairs, 10 -2 in Nixon's favor; business, 10 —2; military, 7—1; busing, 7—3; law and order, 9 —7; economy, 7—6; welfare, 7—7; farm subsidies, 8—10; federal spending, 7—7; and revenue sharing, 3—3.

Image —Recognition, 10 —8, in Nixon's favor; politician, 9—4; credibility, 7—3; charisma, 7—5 intelligence, 7—4; and religion, 9—8.

Support --Foreign support, 10 —1 in Nixon's favor; financial, 8 —2 1/2; Republican, 10 —1/2; big business, 10 —2; Jewish —Americans, 7— 3; independents, 6 —3; women, 6— 4; labor, 6 —4; youth, 5 —5; Democrats, 4 —6; and minorities, 3 —6.

--POLITICAL PUFFERY?--

With a trumpet blast of self -congratulation, the Nixon Administration recently announced a "landmark" accord with American Telephone and Telegraph to promote thousands of women, blacks and chicanos.

General Services Administrator Arthur Sampson, the federal housekeeper, declared triumphantly that "AT&T's affirmative action ... follows to the letter President Nixon's directives."

We have now learned that the happy accord not only falls short of the President's directives but was sternly rejected earlier by GSA's own civil rights office.

Last July, GSA's acting civil rights director , John Brosnahan, turned down Ma Bell's antidiscrimination plan. He wrote sharply to AT&T's equal employment head, D.M. Davis: "We have several areas of disagreement with the model you have proposed."

Brosnahan called AT&T's transfer plan "unacceptable" and rejected a three per cent goal for women in entry level jobs. "As we have stated many times," he wrote, "entry level jobs should have a goal of 38 per cent for women." He also found "all affirmative action plans submitted to GSA (by AT&T) provisionally unacceptable."

AT&T finally moved the women's goal up to 10 per cent, still far from the 38 per cent sought by GSA's civil rights office. But the telephone company could not be budged any further.

Nevertheless, in view of the political need to appease both women and the minorities, the Nixon Administration decided to ignore both its guidelines and its experts. On September 20, Sampson announced GSA had secured "one of the farthest reaching equal employment opportunity programs in American business."

Footnote: We asked GSA's civil rights director, E.E. Mitchell, why he let the agreement go through. He acknowledged there had been "differences of opinion at the highest levels in GSA" but said he had pounded out the best possible accord with AT&T. A spokesman for AT&T said the accord was reached after eight months of negotiations. "We feel it's a very progressive agreement," he said. "We've opened up a channel for every qualified employee to advance."

The enthusiasm at the Democratic convention for the national lettuce boycott hasn't impressed the Democrats who run the House restaurants. Nonunion western iceberg lettuce is still served in the House dining rooms. House Administration Chairman Wayne Hays, D —Ohio, who is in charge of the restaurants, tells us food purchases are determined by cost, not politics. "There's no law that says we have to comply with the boycott," he grumped ...Republican Roman Pucinski, who hails from the Democratic stronghold of Chicago, doesn't favor elephant stories. But he was so impressed with a small clay elephant, sculptured by an 11 -year -old constituent, that the congressman arranged for Orlando Rivera to present his clay elephant to President Nixon at the White House ...Vying for the seat of the late Rep. William Ryan, D —N.Y., is one of the hardest working members of Congress, drug expert Jim Scheuer, who was born in the district, and one of the loudest, militant feminists Bella Abzug. Both were beaten in Primary races, Ms. Abzug by Ryan in a nasty campaign. Now, the seat may wind up with Ryan's widow, Priscilla ...Representative Nick, Galifinakos, who is running for the Senate in North Carolina, has such a long and difficult name that it takes two campaign buttons to spell it out. He has issued one button with "Galifi" and another with "anakis" for his supporters to wear.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

WASHINGTON —It was a saddening noon hour last Tuesday for the dedicated labor men who have been working their hearts out for Sen. George McGovern. At a political strategy conference in the big parley hall of the national AFL —CIO headquarters, these men had sat behind closed doors closed to all outsiders --and had heard from a national opinion analyst whom they trust, indeed, that the Dakotan would not carry "a single state."

These union political strategists had not come to this crucial gathering of the 32 members of their Committee on Political Education's (COPE) Operating Committee to discuss the "top of any ticket." They had come --in one of the wind -up sessions before the election --to plan the last -lap surge in key marginal districts so they can elect a Congress they consider "friendly." High on the agenda were "special problems" in New Jersey, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Rhode Island.

Mostly, they and their chief of chiefs, George Meany, listened silently. Most of them are for McGovern --or at least emotionally anti - Nixon --even if the chief is not. The election analyst to whom they have turned in many campaigns and who advises Meany personally is, in effect, though an outsider, their house expert.

He is a political scientist though none are so objective that they don't feel the urge to ease things a bit for their own side. And this analyst is a Democrat. But he saw no hope for McGovern.

He reported that in one Midwest state there had been a survey more than a poll, of 200 Democrats. All of them were anti -Nixon. But not one of them was for McGovern nor would they indicate whether they'd vote for their own top ticket.

The analyst, whose Elections Research Center is down the street here, said he saw President Nixon in trouble in only two states --New York and California.

The analyst observed that if Dick Nixon lost any states they would be the two giant ones. But the specialist did not actually believe the President would lose them.

But none of this doleful message to labor's inner sanctum strategists is turning off those who are dedicated to the Dakotan. They're doing their thing. They believe they can take New York, Ohio, Illinois, Texas, Pennsylvania and California. And that they can close the McGovern gap with these labor -heavy states as a base. They're huddling around McGovern now that he has "come home" to revisit his campaign.

They scoff at the national building and construction trades union leaders who have endorsed President Nixon. The National Labor Committee for the Election of McGovern -Shriver claims support of the building and construction trades state federations of California, Missouri, Wisconsin and Ohio.

They report further support of high officials of such unions in 15 states, and even Teamster organizations; powerful and pulsating general labor committees in 42 states; and say the crowds they're whooping up at airports and union halls are far more significant than the polls showing Mr. Nixon unbeatable.

They do believe they can crunch down the gap. Certainly they're trying. Already they're prepared to pour between 20 and 25 million pieces of anti —Nixon literature into it. They have 140 "movies," some 40 of which are already widely distributed. They have an instant political press of their own --some 800 labor papers for which they prepare special weekly two -page inserts. They're getting their men, caravans and logistics into the streets, onto the daises of the right banquets and the key union halls, and in front of plant gates.

They do have endorsements of 41 national unions with fully half the membership of American organized labor. And they're pouring the heat on voter registration.

They know it may all be futile. Their supporters on COPE's Operating Committee heard in secret conference on Tuesday the opinion of their election specialist that traditionally the front -runner's poll percentages don't vary much after Labor Day --though the underdog generally closes the gap.

But they're truly fighting, flooding the nation with their literature, their energy, their expertise.

They're not deceiving themselves. They know their campaign actually hasn't gotten off the ground. They are hoping for a McGovern miracle. They are counting crowds --and these have been plentiful --not polls. They find the former more significant than the latter. So they are only just beginning to pour it on.

Tinnin Blocks Raise To Liquor Agents

JEFFERSON CITY — State SEn. Nelson Tinnin, a Hornersville Democrat, has successfully blocked pay raises for 46 liquor control agents because some agents worked against him in the August primary election in the Bootheel.

Sen. Tinnin said he blocked the pay raises in the Senate Appropriations Committee because of political activity of three agents in New Madrid and Butler counties during the August primary election campaign.

The senator said three agents, whom he declined to name, "used all of their forces in those counties to defeath him, putting pressure on liquor license holders if they didn't support my opponent."

Tinnin said the agents put license holders under duress by telling them they would lose their licenses if they didn't support Parma Mayor Randall Ramsey, brother of New Madrid County Sheriff W. L. Ramsey.

The pay raises were proposed in a supplemental appropriations bill. Last spring, lawmakers passed a bill raising salaries of all liquor control agents to $8,000 for any agents below that level. No money was appropriated for the 46 in that category, however.

Fires Cause Shortage Of Electricity

Wind, rain, and tangled wires in a tree caused an electrical short circuit and fire in wires leading to two homes and an apartment building on West North Street at 7:40 p.m. Friday.

Firemen were called to the Shad Old Home at 168 West North, the Bob Waldman home at 114 West North and the apartments at 116 West North when the burning wires set fire to a post and a tree. Firemen said about 300 feet of wire burned.

Electricity to the block had to be shut off for a short time because of the fire.

Dexter Scout Night Held

DEXTER — The annual School Night for Scouting was held Thursday night in central Elementary School at 7 p.m.

Sixty- two boys were registered as Cub Scouts. They were evenly divided between Packs 200 and 70 of Dexter. Dohm said the number of boys in scouting now exceeds the number of boys who were members last year.

Mail Box

Sept. 25, 1972

Dear Mr. Blanton,

I appreciated very much the nice letter Mrs. Richard Vaughan wrote last week commending our good fire department and police force. We, as citizens of Sikeston, should be very proud of them.

I, would like to state my appreciation, and that of my family of our good hospital facilities. I don't believe people ever stop to think how fortunate we are to have a hospital like this.

Many times members of my immediate family and my husbands family have entered the Delta Community Hospital and have always found the nurses and all personell to be very sympathic and kind and capable in every way to care for our needs. We have so many good capable doctors who are always available to the needs of their patients.

I hope Mr. Harold Jones and his staff accept this letter of thanks from my family for their good work.

Sincerely,
Mrs. G. S. Hornback

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Wayward Daughter

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Barney suspected that Grover was something of a rover and that if his daughter ever married him, she'd have to be Secretary of State to keep track of his foreign affairs. Consequently, to dissuade her from marrying him Barney inserted a provision in his will disinheriting her.

"Not a dime," responded the executor of Barney's estate. "The exclusion provision in the will is perfectly clear. When you walked down the aisle, you walked out of a small fortune."

"That's what you say" retorted Barney's daughter. "But under the law it's against public policy to prohibit anyone from getting married. And that's exactly what my father tried to do with his provision disinheriting me. The provision is as void as outer space." The dispute ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you give the disobedient daughter a share of her father's estate?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that while the law encouraged marriages and frowns upon any effort to prevent it, it is absolutely legal for a father to prohibit his child from marrying a particular person so long as it is not intended as a general restraint on marriage.

Tinnin Blocks Raise To Liquor Agents

JEFFERSON CITY — State SEn. Nelson Tinnin, a Hornersville Democrat, has successfully blocked pay raises for 46 liquor control agents because some agents worked against him in the August primary election in the Bootheel.

Sen. Tinnin said he blocked the pay raises in the Senate Appropriations Committee because of political activity of three agents in New Madrid and Butler counties during the August primary election campaign.

The senator said three agents, whom he declined to name, "used all of their forces in those counties to defeath him, putting pressure on liquor license holders if they didn't support my opponent."

Tinnin said the agents put license holders under duress by telling them they would lose their licenses if they didn't support Parma Mayor Randall Ramsey, brother of New Madrid County Sheriff W. L. Ramsey.

The pay raises were proposed in a supplemental appropriations bill. Last spring, lawmakers passed a bill raising salaries of all liquor control agents to $8,000 for any agents below that level. No money was appropriated for the 46 in that category, however.

Fires Cause Shortage Of Electricity

Wind, rain, and tangled wires in a tree caused an electrical short circuit and fire in wires leading to two homes and an apartment building on West North Street at 7:40 p.m. Friday.

Firemen were called to the Shad Old Home at 168 West North, the Bob Waldman home at 114 West North and the apartments at 116 West North when the burning wires set fire to a post and a tree. Firemen said about 300 feet of wire burned.

Electricity to the block had to be shut off for a short time because of the fire.

Kim Harper, 10, Sikeston, cut left third finger in door; Steven Griggs, 7, Sikeston, fell against a table and cut lip; Michael Woodall, 25, Kewanee, hit left thumb with a hammer.

Sidney Howard, 6, Sikeston, fell from a sliding board and bruised right shoulder; Johnny Pruett, 32, East Prairie, cut right thumb on a piece of metal.

Mail Box

Sept. 25, 1972

Dear Mr. Blanton,

I appreciated very much the nice letter Mrs. Richard Vaughan wrote last week commending our good fire department and police force. We, as citizens of Sikeston, should be very proud of them.

I, would like to state my appreciation, and that of my family of our good hospital facilities. I don't believe people ever stop to think how fortunate we are to have a hospital like this.

Many times members of my immediate family and my husbands family have entered the Delta Community Hospital and have always found the nurses and all personell to be very sympathic and kind and capable in every way to care for our needs. We have so many good capable doctors who are always available to the needs of their patients.

I hope Mr. Harold Jones and his staff accept this letter of thanks from my family for their good work.

Sincerely,
Mrs. G. S. Hornback

What's The Law?

The Case Of The Wayward Daughter

By Jack Strauss, LL.B.

Barney suspected that Grover was something of a rover and that if his daughter ever married him, she'd have to be Secretary of State to keep track of his foreign affairs. Consequently, to dissuade her from marrying him Barney inserted a provision in his will disinheriting her.

"Not a dime," responded the executor of Barney's estate. "The exclusion provision in the will is perfectly clear. When you walked down the aisle, you walked out of a small fortune."

"That's what you say" retorted Barney's daughter. "But under the law it's against public policy to prohibit anyone from getting married. And that's exactly what my father tried to do with his provision disinheriting me. The provision is as void as outer space." The dispute ended up in court.

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you give the disobedient daughter a share of her father's estate?

This is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that while the law encouraged marriages and frowns upon any effort to prevent it, it is absolutely legal for a father to prohibit his child from marrying a particular person so long as it is not intended as a general restraint on marriage.

Mothers Tie Up Telephones, Also

Dear Ann Landers: Recently you ran a letter in your column from a woman who said her teen -ager tied up the phone from 3:00 until 10:00 p.m. and she was furious about it.

I'm a 15 -year -old girl whose MOTHER is on the phone constantly. Once I got sick in school and the secretary tried to call my mother to ask her to come and get me. She dialed for 40 minutes and couldn't get through because the line was busy. Finally she decided to drive me home in her own car.

When my boyfriend calls for an hour straight and is unable to get through, he gets ticked off. He can't understand how anybody can gab that long. Frankly, neither can I. Several of my girl friends have tried to reach me for an impromptu party and I've missed out because our line was busy and they gave up.

So please, Ann, don't make it look like teen -agers are the only ones who have "black -cord fever." Some of the grownups are just as bad, or worse. ---Hot Line U.S.A.

Dear Hot Line U.S.A.: In families such as yours, where the telephone is a major source of entertainment, a second line is well worth the money. It is unfair for one member of the family, either teen -ager or adult, to tie up the only phone in the house for an hour at a time.

Dear Ann Landers: I pray that you will print my letter for every parent and animal lover in the world.

I am sick to death of the kids I see here in California. I'm talking about 12 -and 13 -year -old kids who are turned loose with B.B. guns. I have a horse that I keep in the country in Fairfield. There are many horses out here, as well as cows, dogs, and cats. Yesterday I came out to feed my pets. My favorite kitten failed to show up as usual so I went looking for her. Ann, I thought my heart would break. I found that dear little ball of fur crawling out from under the barn with two B.B. holes in her leg. She was in pain and struggled desperately to get to me. It was apparent that someone had shot her for kicks.

I have sons of my own. I would no sooner turn my boys loose with a B.B. gun than I would cut off my right arm. What is the matter with parents that they buy such "toys" for their children? And why don't they teach their youngsters to respect, if not to love, all living things?

There is a strange emptiness in people who have no feeling for God's creatures. Children who take delight in seeing animals suffer are potential criminals. They have seeds of destruction that could lead them to do hideous things. Please, Ann --say something. --California Reader

Dear Reader: What can I say? You have said it all --and very eloquently. I agree, the whole gun scene in our country is a nightmare. After that outrageous attempt on Governor Wallace's life you'd have thought there would be an immediate demand for stricter gun laws --but so far, nothing. What more must happen before we wake up?

Don't get burned by a "line" that's too hot to handle. Play it cool with Ann Landers' guide to "Necking and Petting --What Are The Limits?" Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper, enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped, self -addressed envelope.

Birthday Dinner Held Thursday For Danforth

MALDEN —A birthday banquet for Attorney Gen. John C. Danforth was held Thursday at 7p.m. at Crowley's Ridge Resort with Tom Baker of Dexter, Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney of Stoddard County, as master of ceremonies.

The banquet was sponsored by the Stoddard County Republican Committee with chairman Jerry Bess and his wife Margaret acting as host and hostess.

Danforth said he was both surprised and happy with the large turnout of supporters. In a short speech following the dinner, Danforth said that Missouri must rid itself of old -fashioned machine politics. "We need not change the driver of the machine," said Danforth, "only the rusty parts inside that machine." He also said he is tired of the fighting in Jefferson City and hopes for a better working system in the future.

William C. Phelps, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, arrived later in the evening from Poplar Bluff, where he had been campaigning.

Phelps, in a short speech to the group, said that he supports Kit Bond, Republican candidate for governor, and agreed with Bond's campaign issues. He also stated that he would work side by side with Bond to bring better government to the state of Missouri.

Nominations Opened

NEW MADRID — New Madrid County farmers are encouraged to nominate candidates for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community committeemen, reports Larry Blunt, New Madrid County ASCS executive director.

Petitions, to be signed by a minimum of three qualified voters, must be filed by Oct. 27 at the New Madrid County ASCS office, 565 Virginia.

"We are hopeful a slate of at least six candidates will be nominated by farmer petitions, including representatives of minority groups in New Madrid County," said Blunt. ASCS programs are non-discriminatory and administered without regard to race, color, creed, sex or national origin.

Eligible farmers may sign as many nominating petitions as they wish. No special petition form is required, but the petition must include a statement that the nominee is willing to serve if elected. Most persons eligible to participate in ASCS programs are eligible to serve as ASC committeemen. This includes producers, sharecroppers, tenants and minors who supervise an entire farm operation.

Nominees must have farming interests within the ASC community, be qualified ASC voters and not have reached their 70th birthday by the date they take office. Further details on nominations for ASC community committeemen may be obtained from the New Madrid County ASCS office.

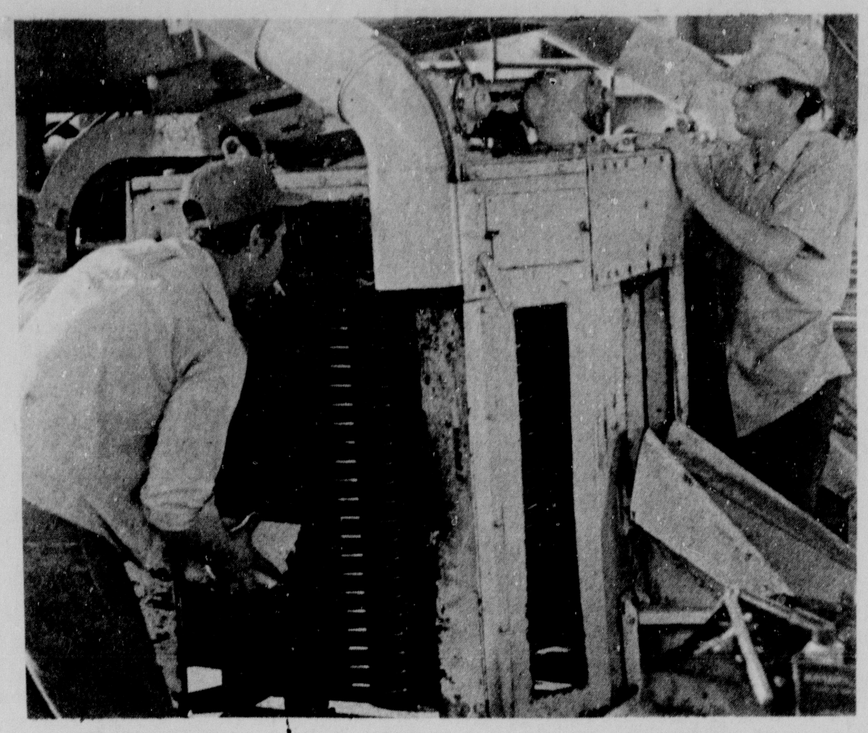
Farmers Need Better Plans For Land Use

In all parts of the country, farm land is being taken up for roads, factories, housing, etc. These changes take away land which produces food and fiber. Farmers need to plan the use of their land to get maximum returns for their investment without damaging the soil.

A farmer who uses his land wisely usually earns a good living and protects the land for future generations.

For more information concerning proper land use, contact the county Soil Conservation Service office, where trained personnel will be glad to assist you in developing a plan for your land.

In 1959 a crew of four Englishmen attempted a flight from the Canary Islands to the West Indies in a balloon called "Small World" but crashed after 94 hours afloat.



JAMES HAYDEN of Dogwood and Jimmy Dodds of Sikeston make repairs and adjustments on a high drum cotton picker owned by Parker Brothers of Sikeston Route Three. Rains during the past week have halted harvest on cotton, corn and soybeans in the area. Wade Parker says cotton yields may suffer this year because of the rainfall and high humidity.

Explains Exports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of Agriculture J. Phil Campbell has found another way of explaining the importance of exports to farmers.

If exports were eliminated, Campbell is saying in recent speeches, farmers would have to quit producing the equivalent of all the wheat grown in the Dakotas, Montana and Oklahoma; all the cotton in the Mississippi Delta; corn in Michigan, Missouri, Wisconsin and Kansas; sorghum in Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, California and South Dakota; and soybeans in Ohio, Indiana, Minnesota, Iowa and Missouri.

The point he makes is that exports are taking the equivalent production of those crops produced in the states mentioned.

Mexico is bounded by the Pacific Ocean on the west and south; on the southeast by Guatemala, British Honduras, and the Caribbean sea, and on the east by the Gulf of Mexico.

Grass, Legumes Best For Runoff

Of all conservation practices, grass and legumes do the best job of slowing water runoff and holding soil in place.

In the uplands of Scott County a good mixture to use is 15 pounds of fescue, three pounds of timothy or red top and one pound of lidino clover. In the lowlands where drainage is a problem, Reed canarygrass should be seeded at the rate of 10 pounds with about three pounds of alsike clover.

Farmers in the Blue Ditch Drainage District of Scott County could profit by seeding this Reed canarygrass in their poorly drained soil. This grass is adapted to high water levels and does very well in wet lands.

Warm season grasses like Big Bluestem, Switchgrass and Indiangrass grow well in hot weather when other grasses are dormant. Establishing a nature grass stand takes at least one year with no grazing and maybe limited grazing the second year. Overgrazing kills these warm season grasses. These grasses are not seeded very often because of the management requirement to maintain them.

Proper fertilization including lime with a good rotation program is a must to maintain a mixture once it is established.

If you are not getting the most from your pastures, talk this matter over with the technicians working at Scott County Soil Conservation Service.

Hog Numbers Remain Behind

COLUMBIA — The Sept. 1 Hog and Pig Report released by the Missouri Crop and Livestock Reporting Service set the all hog and pig inventory on that date at 4,500,000, two per cent below a year earlier. Market hogs and pigs at 3,870,000, were down two per cent below last year's 3,962,000 and accounted for the drop in total inventory. Hogs and pigs for breeding on Sept. 1, totaled 630,000, two per cent above September 1, 1971.

The summer pig crop is estimated at 1,798,000, five percent less than a year earlier. During this June- August period Missouri farmers followed through with the June 1 intentions and farrowed 250,000 sows and gilts, down seven per cent from last year. Average litter size for the June-August quarter rose from 7.03 pigs per litter in 1971 to 7.19 this year.

Farrowing intentions level off as farmers expect to farrow 490,000 sows and gilts during the next six months. If the intentions are realized, farrowings during the September- November and December- February quarters will be 280,000 and 210,000 respectively, the same as a year earlier.

Loan Funds Now Available To Farmers

NEW MADRID — The Farmers Home Administration office at New Madrid has loan funds available for young farmers wanting to start farming in 1973, according to County Supervisor Dennis E. Hurley.

To be eligible, a recipient must have a farm background or recent farm experience. A person already earning sufficient income to have a reasonable standard of living is not eligible.

Loan funds may be used for purchasing basic farm equipment, livestock, operating expenses and family living expenses. Machinery repayment may be spread up to seven years depending upon the life expectancy of the equipment.

The interest rate will be 5.87 per cent. For further information, contact the FHA office in person or by calling 748-2544.

Forage Seedings Take Best Before Cool Moist Weather

JOHN GARRETT
Area Agronomy Specialist

Forages may be seeded in the early spring, late summer, (August 15 to September 15) or in winter, according to John Garrett, Area Agronomy Specialist. Seedings made during or just prior to periods of cool and moist weather are usually the most successful. Almost all grasses and legumes may be seeded in the late summer or early fall.

Companion Crops

Studies show that cover crops such as wheat or oats reduce weeds, control erosion and furnish winter protection to young seedlings. It is also true that companion crops that are harvested for grain may suppress and kill young forage seedlings. But if they are removed early as hay or pasture, they do not interfere with seedling establishment. Small grains are excellent forages and often yield as much as two or three tons of hay equivalent. This may substantially offset much of the seeding costs. If you are planning a late summer seeding, consider a Hessian fly resistant wheat variety as a companion crop. It will furnish fall pasture and winter protection to the young seedlings and prevent erosion.

Seed, Seeding Rates and Mixtures

Select quality seed and use recommended varieties. Often seeding failures are blamed on environmental conditions when the real culprit is poor quality seed. Seed may germinate and then die bacause of lack of vitality. Factors that contribute to vitality are: age of seed; its maturity at harvest; and the conditions under which it was stored. Use Certified Seed if available. Poor seed is never a bargain at my price.

Use the right amount of seed: Too much seed is as harmful as too little. Methods of seeding forages have generally been poor and there is a tendency to use high seeding rates to compensate. However, excessive seeding rates may result in thin stands because of reduced vigor and size of the plants.

Keep seeding mixtures simple. Grasses and legumes that are sown in combination should be similar in palatability, maturity patterns and growing vigors. Because of the great difference among grasses each mixture should contain only one grass and one or two legumes. Simple seeding mixtures are more manageable, produce higher yields, less wasted forage and reduced spotty grazing. See Missouri Guide Sheets 4006 and 4010 for recommended varieties, seeding rates and mixtures.

Inoculation

No matter how often you grow legumes in a certain area, always inoculate a new seeding. It is cheap insurance to enable the legumes to fix nitrogen from the air and make it available to the growing plants.

Many seed companies sell preinoculated seed. These are effective if the seed is stored in cool areas and it is sown three or four months following treatment. If there is any doubt or the seed is carried over from the past year, reinoculate before sowing.

Seedbed

A frim seedbed is needed because loose soils quickly dry out and forage seedlings die because of moisture stress. Cultipacking before sending firms the soil below the seed. Rolling after seeding packs the soil around the seed and provides it with good moisture contact. Rolling before and after seeding both help seedlings get a quick vigorous start. If the land is steep with a serious erosion hazard, a disc or field cultivator will leave much of the vegetation near the surface as a mulch. The mulch may seem to be a nuisance at seeding time but it offers winter protection for the new seedlings as well as erosion control. A companion crop of wheat will also help alleviate erosion problems.

Lime and Fertilizer

Test the soil to determine how much lime, phosphate and potash is to be plowed or disced into the soil before seeding. If a wheat drill is used to seed the companion crop and the forages, it is beneficial to use a starter fertilizer in addition to that worked into the soil. Most research shows that phosphate applied at seeding time and properly placed in bands is the key element in establishment of both legumes and grasses. A small amount of banded nitrogen and potash may also be beneficial at seeding time but large amounts of phosphate is the critical element. An example of a starter fertilizer for forages is one that contains 60 to 100 pounds of phosphate, 20 to 30 pounds of nitrogen and 20 to 30 pounds of potash.

Management of New Seedings

Fall grazing is necessary if a companion crop such as wheat is used when the forage seeding was made. Start grazing when the wheat is about six to ten inches tall. Fall grazing will not harm the new grass and legume seedlings unless trampled during wet weather. It is also necessary to graze small grains in the spring or remove for hay. Two additional harvest of the new forage can be expected, one in early July and another in August.

If a fall forage seeding is made without a companion crop, do not graze until the following spring.

Guernsey Calf Given As Prize At Cape Fair

CAPE GIRARDEAU — A registered Guernsey heifer calf was presented as first prize for the 1972 Guernsey essay contest at the district fair. Mark Berry of Jackson F.F.A. won the heifer, according to Ted Sebaugh, youth chairman ofor the district.

Presentation of the heifer was made right after the selection of the grand champion Guernsey female. The pedigreed heifer was given by breeders in Southeast Missouri district and came from Shawnee Farms of Jackson, Sebaugh stated.

Also present at the presentation was Rolland Cook, last year's winner of the contest. Rolland exhibited the heifer he won, receiving a blue ribbon and champion. His heifer was from the Clem Schabbing herd, Cape Girardeau.

An interesting sidelight on this year's winner is that Mark's grandfather was a Guernsey breeder in this area, Sebaugh added. According to the rules of the contest, Mark will exhibit the heifer in the 1973 Southeast Missouri District Fair. Purpose of the program is to encourage youths to own good registered cattle.

Land Bankers Review New Loan Policies

ST. LOUIS — Directors of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston met with other land bank directors in St. Louis recently to review new land bank loan programs developed because of the Farm Credit Act of 1971.

Directors attending were Hutson L. Goza of Essex, Dale Geske of Matthews, Vincent Dirnberger of Oran, Charles N. Meier of Jackson and Hal F. Robertson and Michael Bollinger, both of Sikeston.

Glen E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank Association, reported to the group that the St. Louis land bank loaned more money in the first eight and a half months of this year than it did in all of 1971. The St. Louis bank serves Missouri and portions of Illinois and Arkansas.

Robertson, manager of the Sikeston land bank, said his organization has loaned over $2,652,000 to farm and rural families in Scott, New Madrid, Stoddard, Cape Girardeau and Mississippi counties during the first eight months of the year.

*5 year ASC Loans at 5½%.

*There is often more net profit to the farmer in storing grain than in raising the crops.

Two additional harvest of the new forage can be expected, one in early July and another in August.

If a fall forage seeding is made without a companion crop, do not graze until the following spring.

Mexico is divided into 32 political units: 29 states, the territories of Baja California-Sur and Quintana Roo and the Federal District.

Guernsey Calf Given As Prize At Cape Fair

CAPE GIRARDEAU — A registered Guernsey heifer calf was presented as first prize for the 1972 Guernsey essay contest at the district fair. Mark Berry of Jackson F.F.A. won the heifer, according to Ted Sebaugh, youth chairman ofor the district.

Presentation of the heifer was made right after the selection of the grand champion Guernsey female. The pedigreed heifer was given by breeders in Southeast Missouri district and came from Shawnee Farms of Jackson, Sebaugh stated.

Also present at the presentation was Rolland Cook, last year's winner of the contest. Rolland exhibited the heifer he won, receiving a blue ribbon and champion. His heifer was from the Clem Schabbing herd, Cape Girardeau.

An interesting sidelight on this year's winner is that Mark's grandfather was a Guernsey breeder in this area, Sebaugh added. According to the rules of the contest, Mark will exhibit the heifer in the 1973 Southeast Missouri District Fair. Purpose of the program is to encourage youths to own good registered cattle.

Land Bankers Review New Loan Policies

ST. LOUIS — Directors of Federal Land Bank Association of Sikeston met with other land bank directors in St. Louis recently to review new land bank loan programs developed because of the Farm Credit Act of 1971.

Directors attending were Hutson L. Goza of Essex, Dale Geske of Matthews, Vincent Dirnberger of Oran, Charles N. Meier of Jackson and Hal F. Robertson and Michael Bollinger, both of Sikeston.

Glen E. Heitz, president of Federal Land Bank Association, reported to the group that the St. Louis land bank loaned more money in the first eight and a half months of this year than it did in all of 1971. The St. Louis bank serves Missouri and portions of Illinois and Arkansas.

Robertson, manager of the Sikeston land bank, said his organization has loaned over $2,652,000 to farm and rural families in Scott, New Madrid, Stoddard, Cape Girardeau and Missssippi counties during the first eight months of the year.

*5 year ASC Loans at 5½%.

*There is often more net profit to the farmer in storing grain than in raising the crops.

Seniors Sponsor Booth'

By CHERYL PRESLEY

Senior dunking booth at the cotton carnival is proving to be a successful money-making project for the class fund.

The booth was acquired from Jackson and assembled at the carnival site Sunday afternoon by these dedicated senior boys, it Thomas Barr, Allen Figley, Paul Fisher, Mike Friedman, David Hahs, Rikki LaPlant, Dennis Meyer, Danny Nelson, Eric Sappenfield, Mark Shaw, and Kevin Ward under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dye and Ed Figley.

Few people can resist the temptation to dunk a dry "victim" perched upon a swing awaiting a plunge into the icy water below.

Perhaps Coach Pete Cirrintano attracted the largest crowd when he occupied the booth for a period Tuesday night.

Senior class president Thomas Barr extends thanks on behalf of the class to Coach Cirrintano, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dyer,

All are urged to pitch three balls for 25 cents at a favorite or UNfavorite senior.

Editorials Play Large Role In Newspapers

EDITORIALS ARE published in the Barker for one reason -- to be read. One can often learn far more from an editorial than from a news item or any other piece of writing in the newspaper.

It seems as if the editorials are about the least read column in the newspaper. This doesn't exactly please the writer of the editorial for much time and preparation goes into writing an editorial.

Editorials give a definite side to an issue or news item and they deal primarily with opinions, whereas the news items deal only with facts. An editorial may do one of five things -- argue, comment, criticize, endorse, or interpret.

When reading the Bulldog Barker, one should not just glance over the editorials, but really read them and listen to what they have to say, because editorials serve as a guide to the interesting world of news.

Seniors Should Enjoy Their Remaining Year

"BE MERRY, FOR our time of stay is short." How well Shakespeare said this. His idea expresses the thoughts and feelings of many seniors as our days in Sikeston high school pass quickly and silently onward.

Not only will this be a year to remember for the seniors, but for each and every individual it will close another chapter in their short lives as high school students.

The games, bon-fires, and many friends will fade slowly into the far corners of seniors' minds as they face the many trials of life which are waiting patiently for them to receive their diplomas and enslave their minds.

Enjoy the childhood days which are still ahead, for they are few. So often young people don't take time to enjoy being young, so seniors let's "be merry, for our time of stay is short."

—Kim Bailey

"Be merry, for our time of stay is short"

Students Must Display School Individualism

"IF MAN DOES NOT KEEP PACE with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured and far away."

--Thoreau

Individualism is a word often heard these days, but in a high school situation it is rearly seen. High school students can try to be independent and have their own opinion, yet in reality these opinions usually conform to those of their parents or friends. This is normal for they are in effect forming the opinions they will have as adults.

Whenever a student voices his ideas in school, he is subjecting himself to criticism and most students know this or they soon find out.

Why can't people be left alone to have their own opinions without interference from others? So many good ideas are suppressed in high school because of a few outspoken students who think they are always right. If the quiet student starts to make a statement, the loud one jumps in and covers it up.

The student that is never heard eventually closes up completely and doesn't attempt to give any more ideas. A person's right to be an individual has been offended.

Growlers Go On Sale Next Monday Morning

"Yearbook sales of the 1972-1973 Growler will begin Monday, Oct. 2," announces Karen Black, feature editor of the Growler, today.

Not only will personal selling be conducted, but stations also will be established before and after school and during the lunch hours.

Joining in the kick- off campaign, senior homerooms will elect candidates for the 1972-1973 Growler king and queen next Tuesday morning in homeroom.

As in the past years, the royal couple will be chosen by the balloting of those purchasing their yearbooks.

Crowning of the year's king and queen will mark the end of the sales campaign. The nominees for Growler royalty will be published in next week's Barker.

The Growler will contain 256 pages this year, an increase over 1972, and various spot color and duotone pages will be included. End sheets will differ from recent years, featuring the fall Red Pepper dance.

Bands Go To Jackson Tuesday

The Sikeston varsity and freshman bands will attend the 25th annual band festival Tuesday in Jackson.

Buses will leave at approximately 8:30 that morning.

Activities of the day will begin with a parade of bands at 10:30. The SHS Marching Bulldogs will play "Joy to the World" and "The Red and the Black" throughout the parade. Approximately 25 area bands will be participating.

Band members will then be free until 1:30 in the afternoon when they will join all of the area bands for a mass band practice.

All drum majorettes and twirlers will have their respective practices for that night's performance.

At 7 p.m., all bands will gather on the football field to await their turn for their individual performances, followed by their participation in mass band formations.

FHA Girls Attend Fair

Twelve Future Homemakers of America attended the Mid- South Fair in Memphis Monday. They were accompanied by instructor Mrs. Helen Calhoun.

The Missouri Future Homemakers of America made it possible for the Sikeston High School FHA members to make the trip. They have sponsored the trip for the last 15 years.

Beside all the rides there are to see at the fair, there are many exhibits. Theclothing exhibit displayed many of the costumes worn by the great actresses of the motion pictures. Other exhibits such as Horticulture, Family Living, foods, flowers, and the Wax Museum were enjoyed by all.

Two very interesting parts were the showing of a robot representing Pres. Abraham Lincoln giving a speech; and a Chinese man as he displayed the art of making Chinese objects.

Girls making the trip were Barbara Boshears, Christie Barber, Donna Crowson, Kathy Hoskins, Teresa Long, Judy Ruhl, Charissa Standridge, Jana Sims, Debbie Sims, Karen Webb, Teresa Webb, and Sharon West.

Four Students Attend District Council Meet

Juniors Terry Teachout, Elisabeth Dupont, John Hoffman, and senior Willie Lane will participate in the 27th annual District Student Council convention in Poplar Bluff tomorrow.

Students will meet in general sessions throughout the day and also attend discussion groups that will be available.

Terry will lead one of the discussion groups that will be concerned with the constitution of a student council.

Nominations will be made for host and co -host schools for next year's convention, and the particular school will be chosen to act as the host and another for the co -host.

After the discussion groups are dismissed, all students will assemble in the auditorium to vote on the host and co-host for next fall.

It is one thing to praise discipline, another to submit it.

Never learn to do anything. If you don't learn you'll always find someone else to do it for you.

To feel that you have done what should be done raises you in your own eyes.

Sophs Compile For Students '72 Directory

Mrs. Marty Potashnick's homeroom is in the process of compiling the 1972 -73 student directory.

After the students' names are alphabetized, placed in the proper classes, and typed, the directory will be sent to the Daily Sikeston Standard to be printed. Mrs. Potashnick believes the finished product will be ready in six to eight weeks. The price of the student directory will be 15 cents.

Students in Mrs. Potashnick's homeroom are --Jimmy Allmon, Vickie Ahart, Larry Archie, Holly Bailey, Jim Beaird, Donna Brown, Shirley Brown, Becky Clark, Debbie Clark, Carol Collier, Angela Cooper.

Editorials Play Large Role In Newspapers

EDITORIALS ARE published in the Barker for one reason -- to be read. One can often learn far more from an editorial than from a news item or any other piece of writing in the newspaper.

It seems as if the editorials are about the least read column in the newspaper. This doesn't exactly please the writer of the editorial for much time and preparation goes into writing an editorial.

Editorials give a definite side to an issue or news item and they deal primarily with opinions, whereas the news items deal only with facts. An editorial may do one of five things -- argue, comment, criticize, endorse, or interpret.

When reading the Bulldog Barker, one should not just glance over the editorials, but really read them and listen to what they have to say, because editorials serve as a guide to the interesting world of news.

Seniors Should Enjoy Their Remaining Year

"BE MERRY, FOR our time of stay is short." How well Shakespeare said this. His idea expresses the thoughts and feelings of many seniors as our days in Sikeston high school pass quickly and silently onward.

Not only will this be a year to remember for the seniors, but for each and every individual it will close another chapter in their short lives as high school students.

The games, bon-fires, and many friends will fade slowly into the far corners of seniors' minds as they face the many trials of life which are waiting patiently for them to receive their diplomas and enslave their minds.

Enjoy the childhood days which are still ahead, for they are few. So often young people don't take time to enjoy being young, so seniors let's "be merry, for our time of stay is short."

—Kim Bailey

"Be merry, for our time of stay is short"

—Shakespeare

Students Must Display School Individualism

"IF MAN DOES NOT KEEP PACE with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music he hears, however measured and far away."

--Thoreau

Individualism is a word often heard these days, but in a high school situation it is rearly seen. High school students can try to be independent and have their own opinion, yet in reality these opinions usually conform to those of their parents or friends. This is normal for they are in effect forming the opinions they will have as adults.

Whenever a student voices his ideas in school, he is subjecting himself to criticism and most students know this or they soon find out.

Why can't people be left alone to have their own opinions without interference from others? So many good ideas are suppressed in high school because of a few outspoken students who think they are always right. If the quiet student starts to make a statement, the loud one jumps in and covers it up.

The student that is never heard eventually closes up completely and doesn't attempt to give any more ideas. A person's right to be an individual has been offended.

Growlers Go On Sale Next Monday Morning

Not only will personal selling be conducted, but stations also will be established before and after school and during the lunch hours.

Joining in the kick- off campaign, senior homerooms will elect candidates for the 1972-1973 Growler king and queen next Tuesday morning in homeroom.

As in the past years, the royal couple will be chosen by the balloting of those purchasing their yearbooks.

Crowning of the year's king and queen will mark the end of the sales campaign. The nominees for Growler royalty will be published in next week's Barker.

The Growler will contain 256 pages this year, an increase over 1972, and various spot color and duotone pages will be included. End sheets will differ from recent years, featuring the fall Red Pepper dance.

Bands Go To Jackson Tuesday

The Sikeston varsity and freshman bands will attend the 25th annual band festival Tuesday in Jackson.

Buses will leave at approximately 8:30 that morning.

Activities of the day will begin with a parade of bands at 10:30. The SHS Marching Bulldogs will play "Joy to the World" and "The Red and the Black" throughout the parade. Approximately 25 area bands will be participating.

Band members will then be free until 1:30 in the afternoon when they will join all of the area bands for a mass band practice.

All drum majorettes and twirlers will have their respective practices for that night's performance.

At 7 p.m., all bands will gather on the football field to await their turn for their individual performances, followed by their participation in mass band formations.

FHA Girls Attend Fair

Twelve Future Homemakers of America attended the Mid- South Fair in Memphis Monday. They were accompanied by instructor Mrs. Helen Calhoun.

The Missouri Future Homemakers of America made it possible for the Sikeston High School FHA members to make the trip. They have sponsored the trip for the last 15 years.

Beside all the rides there are to see at the fair, there are many exhibits. Theclothing exhibit displayed many of the costumes worn by the great actresses of the motion pictures. Other exhibits such as Horticulture, Family Living, foods, flowers, and the Wax Museum were enjoyed by all.

Two very interesting parts were the showing of a robot representing Pres. Abraham Lincoln giving a speech; and a Chinese man as he displayed the art of making Chinese objects.

Girls making the trip were Barbara Boshears, Christie Barber, Donna Crowson, Kathy Hoskins, Teresa Long, Judy Ruhl, Charissa Standridge, Jana Sims, Debbie Sims, Karen Webb, Teresa Webb, and Sharon West.

Four Students Attend District Council Meet

Juniors Terry Teachout, Elisabeth Dupont, John Hoffman, and senior Willie Lane will participate in the 27th annual District Student Council convention in Poplar Bluff tomorrow.

Students will meet in general sessions throughout the day and also attend discussion groups that will be available.

Terry will lead one of the discussion groups that will be concerned with the constitution of a student council.

Nominations will be made for host and co -host schools for next year's convention, and the particular school will be chosen to act as the host and another for the co -host.

After the discussion groups are dismissed, all students will assemble in the auditorium to vote on the host and co-host for next fall.

Never learn to do anything. If you don't learn you'll always find someone else to do it for you.

To feel that you have done what should be done raises you in your own eyes.

At that time, Klassen announced plans to install a nation -wide improvement program based on the use of a self -identifying, plastic "speedy bag." The speedy bags will be used within the mail system to keep special delivery mail from losing its way among millions of other pieces of mail.

Pasaka noted that a six -month test program executed at 4,500 post offices in the West "has shown a reliability rate in the high 90s."

Speedy special delivery bags are made of polyethlene and are 20 inches by 30 inches. The U.S. Postal Service eagle and the words "speedy" and "special delivery" are imprinted in green.

"All special delivery letters, flats and small parcels normally dispatched in mail pouches will be placed in speedy bags," Pasaks said. "The speedy bags then will be placed in a mail pouch or loose pack in such a manner that approximately four inches of the green imprint on the speedy bag is exposed when the pouch or loose pack is closed."

"Upon arrival at the destination or next processing office, pouches containing speedy bags are opened first and the speedy bag is removed and immediately taken to the distribution area for priority processing," Pasaka explained.

He said that studies have shown special delivery mail to be delayed with post offices when it gets intermixed with standard first class mail. This caused it to miss special delivery "runs," he added.

Pasaka pointed out that the public also frequently contributes to slow movement of special delivery mail when they drop it into street collection boxes or other mail depositories without checking whether there will be an expeditious pickup afterwards.

"Special delivery mail is best deposited at a post office where it can move promptly to the station that will finally deliver it," he said. "Mailers also should consider whether a particular item should go via air mail special delivery to insure fastest possible movement in transit as well as at the destination," he added.

Fairley Overpowers SHS

Fairley High School of Memphis, Tenn., rode an early fall rainstorm, a cool north breeze and masterful play calling by quarterback Steve Luckett to a convincing 36-0 romp over the Sikeston Bulldogs at Public School Stadium Friday night.

The nippy, wet weather seemed to affect only Coach Pete Cirrintano's SHS pack while the visiting Bulldogs played extremely well under the adverse conditions.

It was a disappointing sight to see a bunch of spirited and enthusiastic young football players battle under terrible conditions for 48 minutes against a much larger team and still have to absorb a 36-0 defeat. "Sikeston was simply outclassed," commented a bedraggled fan who sat through the entire mess.

The upstart Bulldogs ran into one of Tennessee's top units and absorbed a physical defeat as well as an emotional one. Sikeston coaches and players expected Fairley to be tough, but they felt they could stay with the Memphis team, which was ranked fourth in Tennessee. Art Kuntzman, the head coach at Fairley, proved to be conscious of that ranking as he continued to allow his team to run for 2-point conversions late in the game and did not begin to substitute until less than two minutes were left.

Fairley outweighed Sikeston 35 to 40 pounds per man in certain line positions and man for man, they outperformed the Sikeston eleven.

The Fairley running game accounted for 365 yards, a total which nearly matched the total yield in the first three games on the season for the Bulldogs. The defensive team was not performing terribly, but was on the field for nearly three-fourth of the contest and Fairley made quite a few yards late in the game, when the defensive unit was completely worn down.

The conditions were bad at Public School Stadium, but the visitors were playing on the same turf. Except for a moment just before half when he fumbled the ball three times, veteran quarterback Steve Luckett had little trouble with the conditions. Fairley backs rarely missed a step, while Sikeston runners were slipping and sliding and defensive players were apparently missing coverage on passes.

A big killer on offense was penalties. Holding penalties killed many drives for Sikeston, but this can't be used as an alibi, since Fairley was penalized more times for more yards.

Sikeston's big guns were completely shut off. Fairley scouted Sikeston well and put their information to use. The visitors did just what Sikeston's Coach Cirrintano said they would, running the power offense and throwing the short stuff real well, but the Sikeston defense was just not physically strong enough to stop them.

Sikeston offense backs broke few tackles, understandable, taking into account Fairley's defensive size. But the fact that Fairley backs, smaller than the Sikeston tandem of Bean and Smith, broke tackle after tackle was very discouraging. Exhaustion had to be a factor, but this went on early in the game as well. Breaking the first tackle enabled Fairley runners to pick up those vital extra yards that are the earmark of a good team.

Fairley's total offense amounted to 442 total yards, compared to just 66 for Sikeston, by far the worst disparity this season. This includes a total of 74 yards lost by quarterback Bill Colwick while attempting to pass. Fine defensive coverage by the Fairley deep backs was a big factor in this statistic as Colwick found himself with no one to throw to on passing downs.

The senior signal - caller, All-District last year, still managed to complete five of 10 aerials for 94 yards and one interception. Two or three other times he was victimized by the frostbitten hands of potential receivers, one of which was a sure touchdown.

Sikeston's leading offensive performer was Curtis Bean with 65 yards on 11 carries. However, most of those yards came late in the game after the contest had been decided. At that time, Fairley was in a prevent defense which more or less allowed the run. To show the effectiveness of Fairley's defense, Sikeston's second leading rusher was split end Glen Guttenfelder with 10 yards gained on three end-around plays. Five players each caught one pass, the longest being Guttenfelder's 30-yard reception down the sideline near the Sikeston bench. The ball was perfectly thrown despite the wind, and the fact that the Dogs were unable to do this more often was frustrating to Sikeston followers.

The leading runner for Fairley was senior fullback Steve Massey. The 170-pound runner gained 109 yards on 20 carries. He was followed by the quarterback, Luckett, with 16 carries for 86 yards and two scores. Bill Hogan carried 11 times for 72 yards. Dural Green was the game's leading receiver. The 6-foot-2, 170-pound split end proved one of the finest receivers Sikeston will face this year, combining fine speed with power running after catching the ball. He caught three passes for 44 yards.

Sikeston was able to move the ball for a first down by rushing or passing just three times all night. The other four first downs were by penalty. Most of the time Sikeston's offensive team took the field, ran three plays gaining about a yard, then left the field for the punting team.

Colwick, Sikeston's quarterback who had difficulty moving the team on offense, at least managed to keep the team from getting deeply in the hole. The 185-pound senior kicked seven times for a 29.6 average. Taking away the two-yard punt, you have a near 34-yard average and just one boot was wind aided. The others were into the teeth of a gusty, 30-mile -per-hour gale from the north that hindered passing, kicking and any other flight of the ball through the air.

The defense put up a spirited fight for the first half and most of the second. Fairley was able to get wind time after time, despite appearing to have less speed in the backfield than Sikeston. Luckett, the quarterback, ran the ends for most of his 86 yards and Sikeston was generally ineffective at stopping the wide stuff for the first time all year.

In the middle, Fairley simply used its 30-pound weight advantage to roll over the Sikeston team. Yet, if the offense could have just held the ball for a bit, the defense most likley would have been much more effective. The pass defense for the second week in a row was not too tough. Luckily, or maybe it is unluckily, the Fairley Bulldogs did not pass too much, mainly because they didn't have to.

Sikeston received the kickoff was unable to accomplish anything. Fairley recovered a short punt but fumbled the oval back. Shortly afterward, however, Fairley got the ball deep in Sikeston territory at the 11 and marched in on just four players. The ease with which this was accomplished gave indication of what was to come.

Luckett carried the ball over from the two and Massey's two-point conversion made the score Fairley 8, Sikeston 0. Moments later, with a minute left in the period, Billy Hence scored from the 15 on a double reverse. The try for a two-point conversion was short and Fairley led 14-0.

Early in the second quarter Fairley was driving for the Sikeston goal when a short pass was overthrown. Defensive halfback Leonard Davis intercepted the ball on the two and, trying to regain his balance, ran into the end zone, where he was trapped for a two-point safety, much to the consternation of Sikeston followers.

This made the score 16-0 and Fairley scored one more time just before half. With 1:17 showing on the clock, Luckett scored his second TD of the half, going over from the one-yard line to give Fairley at 22-0 halftime lead.

The third quarter was relatively even, as the Sikeston defense came out fired up. But Tim Kelly got free on a sideline pattern and ran 33 yards for the score on a pass from Luckett. Massey's second 2-point conversion gave the Memphis team a 30-0 lead and put a sag in the step of the Sikeston footballers.

The last score came from Jim McLaughlin, a senior reserve back. The 140-pound speedster took the ball on the 42yard line and ran right through the mingling Sikeston defenders for the final score of the night. Rank-conscious Fairley went for the two-point conversion, but it was no good.

Next game for the Bulldogs will be next Friday night at Kennett, a conference match. For years Sikeston has dominated the series. They have a victory edge over Kennett of 30 win and three losses.

Kennett now has 65 players with some football experience. Due to the departure of some early season prima-donnas Sikeston has about 35 from a school twice as big as Kennett.

Sikeston will go into the encounter a definite underdog, but with the work of the coaching staff and the senior leaders who remain, the Indians had better not look over Sikeston. What would happen? Just ask Farmington.

Eagle Star Injured

EAST PRAIRIE — The Portageville Bulldogs won their second in a row after a season- opening loss to Dexter, as they defeated Southern Conference rivals, the East Prairie Eagles, 21-8.

The Eagles suffered a damaging blow with the loss of sprinter Annise Davis from the lineup for about three weeks. This hurt East Prairie in the game and will surely hurt the Eagles in the weeks to come.

The Eagles gave the Bulldogs all they wanted and more. With the score at 14-8, late in the fourth quarter, the Eagles mounted a fairly good drive, but on first down from the Dogs' 40, the Eagles fumbled and then allowed the visitors a final score.

Fumbles were instrumental in the Bulldog win. Also big factors were Jim Bradfield and Mark Cross. The two led the Portageville defensive charge that shut down the entire Eagle offense, except for Steve Secoy. Secoy ran for 140 yards on 22 carries and was extremely effective in the absence of his runningmate, Davis.

Randy Williams scored two touchdowns for Portageville and Bradfield added the third. The only Eagle score came on a third period pass from quarterback Steve Husk to Myron Fry. Mike Secoy added the two - point conversion.

CHS Remains Winless

PERRYVILLE — Perryville's Pirates capitalized on their ability to control the ball during the first half of the game to shoot down the Charleston Blue Jays in a 23-0 fiasco. It was the fourth straight loss for CHS.

Perryville broke the ice in the first quarter as Roger Brewer hurled a 15-yard touchdown pass to running back Duane Hilton for the first score. David Meyr kicked the extra point. Meyr encored later in the period, kicking a 26-yard field goal.

Fullback Paul Clifton scored on a 10-yard romp in the second quarter, bringing the Pirates to a 16-0 edge. Dewayne grabbed another 15-yard TD pass from quarterback Brewer and Meyr kicked the extra point, also in the second period, to wind up the scoring, as both teams went scoreless through the second half.

Perryville Coach Terry Smith commented, "We were able to take the win by our recovery of the ball and field position. It was really too wet to operate."

The Pirates galloped for 100 yards rushing and an additional 31 yards in the air. The Blue Jays rushed for 54 yards and gained none passing.

Defensive End Billy Welden was a key link in the Pirate defensive barrier.

Next week, the Pirates take on the Herculaneum Blackcats. Charleston's Bluejays travel to Cairo, Ill.

POPLAR BLUFF — Jackson remained undefeated by beating Poplar Bluff 14-6 in a Northern division clash Friday night.

In the first quarter, John Casey hit Tutti Hayes with a 45- yard pass to give Poplar Bluff an early lead.

A deflected pass by Mark Jones in the second quarter was good for a 25- yard touchdown by Jackson's Terry Langston, making the score 7-6 at half, and it remained so throughout the third quarter.

Litzenfelder made the score 14-6 with a 30- yard intercepted pass return in the fourth period.

Fumbles hurt the Poplar Bluff team the most.

Next week Poplar Bluff goes up against De Andreis of St. Louis.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rodolfo Gonzales of Long Beach, Calif., is the first challenger to Chango Carmona, the World Boxing Council's new world lightweight champion.

Carmona agreed to the title fight here Nov. 18 Friday when he signed a contract calling for a 15-round bout to be held at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Gonzales is rated No. 5 by the WBC and was the choice for the match after Pedro Carrasco of Spain turned down a $15,000 guarantee for the fight.

Carmona is 41-8 and Gonzales is 45-4. Both have knocked out 29 foes.

Carmona of Mexico City, won the title two weeks ago with an eight-round knockout of Mando Ramos.

Fairley Overpowers SHS

Fairley High School of Memphis, Tenn., rode an early fall rainstorm, a cool north breeze and masterful play calling by quarterback Steve Luckett to a convincing 36-0 romp over the Sikeston Bulldogs at Public School Stadium Friday night.

The nippy, wet weather seemed to affect only Coach Pete Cirrintano's SHS pack while the visiting Bulldogs played extremely well under the adverse conditions.

It was a disappointing sight to see a bunch of spirited and enthusiastic young football players battle under terrible conditions for 48 minutes against a much larger team and still have to absorb a 36-0 defeat. "Sikeston was simply outclassed," commented a bedraggled fan who sat through the entire mess.

The upstart Bulldogs ran into one of Tennessee's top units and absorbed a physical defeat as well as an emotional one. Sikeston coaches and players expected Fairley to be tough, but they felt they could stay with the Memphis team, which was ranked fourth in Tennessee. Art Kuntzman, the head coach at Fairley, proved to be conscious of that ranking as he continued to allow his team to run for 2-point conversions late in the game and did not begin to substitute until less than two minutes were left.

Fairley outweighed Sikeston 35 to 40 pounds per man in certain line positions and man for man, they outperformed the Sikeston eleven.

The Fairley running game accounted for 365 yards, a total which nearly matched the total yield in the first three games on the season for the Bulldogs. The defensive team was not performing terribly, but was on the field for nearly three-fourth of the contest and Fairley made quite a few yards late in the game, when the defensive unit was completely worn down.

The conditions were bad at Public School Stadium, but the visitors were playing on the same turf. Except for a moment just before half when he fumbled the ball three times, veteran quarterback Steve Luckett had little trouble with the conditions. Fairley backs rarely missed a step, while Sikeston runners were slipping and sliding and defensive players were apparently missing coverage on passes.

A big killer on offense was penalties. Holding penalties killed many drives for Sikeston, but this can't be used as an alibi, since Fairley was penalized more times for more yards.

Sikeston's big guns were completely shut off. Fairley scouted Sikeston well and put their information to use. The visitors did just what Sikeston's Coach Cirrintano said they would, running the power offense and throwing the short stuff real well, but the Sikeston defense was just not physically strong enough to stop them.

Sikeston offense backs broke few tackles, understandable, taking into account Fairley's defensive size. But the fact that Fairley backs, smaller than the Sikeston tandem of Bean and Smith, broke tackle after tackle was very discouraging. Exhaustion had to be a factor, but this went on early in the game as well. Breaking the first tackle enabled Fairley runners to pick up those vital extra yards that are the earmark of a good team.

Fairley's total offense amounted to 442 total yards, compared to just 66 for Sikeston, by far the worst disparity this season. This includes a total of 74 yards lost by quarterback Bill Colwick while attempting to pass. Fine defensive coverage by the Fairley deep backs was a big factor in this statistic as Colwick found himself with no one to throw to on passing downs.

The senior signal - caller, All-District last year, still managed to complete five of 10 aerials for 94 yards and one interception. Two or three other times he was victimized by the frostbitten hands of potential receivers, one of which was a sure touchdown.

Sikeston's leading offensive performer was Curtis Bean with 65 yards on 11 carries. However, most of those yards came late in the game after the contest had been decided. At that time, Fairley was in a prevent defense which more or less allowed the run. To show the effectiveness of Fairley's defense, Sikeston's second leading rusher was split end Glen Guttenfelder with 10 yards gained on three end-around plays. Five players each caught one pass, the longest being Guttenfelder's 30-yard reception down the sideline near the Sikeston bench. The ball was perfectly thrown despite the wind, and the fact that the Dogs were unable to do this more often was frustrating to Sikeston followers.

The leading runner for Fairley was senior fullback Steve Massey. The 170-pound runner gained 109 yards on 20 carries. He was followed by the quarterback, Luckett, with 16 carries for 86 yards and two scores. Bill Hogan carried 11 times for 72 yards. Dural Green was the game's leading receiver. The 6-foot-2, 170-pound split end proved one of the finest receivers Sikeston will face this year, combining fine speed with power running after catching the ball. He caught three passes for 44 yards.

Sikeston was able to move the ball for a first down by rushing or passing just three times all night. The other four first downs were by penalty. Most of the time Sikeston's offensive team took the field, ran three plays gaining about a yard, then left the field for the punting team.

Colwick, Sikeston's quarterback who had difficulty moving the team on offense, at least managed to keep the team from getting deeply in the hole. The 185-pound senior kicked seven times for a 29.6 average. Taking away the two-yard punt, you have a near 34-yard average and just one boot was wind aided. The others were into the teeth of a gusty, 30-mile -per-hour gale from the north that hindered passing, kicking and any other flight of the ball through the air.

The defense put up a spirited fight for the first half and most of the second. Fairley was able to get wind time after time, despite appearing to have less speed in the backfield than Sikeston. Luckett, the quarterback, ran the ends for most of his 86 yards and Sikeston was generally ineffective at stopping the wide stuff for the first time all year.

In the middle, Fairley simply used its 30-pound weight advantage to roll over the Sikeston team. Yet, if the offense could have just held the ball for a bit, the defense most likley would have been much more effective. The pass defense for the second week in a row was not too tough. Luckily, or maybe it is unluckily, the Fairley Bulldogs did not pass too much, mainly because they didn't have to.

Sikeston received the kickoff was unable to accomplish anything. Fairley recovered a short punt but fumbled the oval back. Shortly afterward, however, Fairley got the ball deep in Sikeston territory at the 11 and marched in on just four players. The ease with which this was accomplished gave indication of what was to come.

Luckett carried the ball over from the two and Massey's two-point conversion made the score Fairley 8, Sikeston 0. Moments later, with a minute left in the period, Billy Hence scored from the 15 on a double reverse. The try for a two-point conversion was short and Fairley led 14-0.

Early in the second quarter Fairley was driving for the Sikeston goal when a short pass was overthrown. Defensive halfback Leonard Davis intercepted the ball on the two and, trying to regain his balance, ran into the end zone, where he was trapped for a two-point safety, much to the consternation of Sikeston followers.

This made the score 16-0 and Fairley scored one more time just before half. With 1:17 showing on the clock, Luckett scored his second TD of the half, going over from the one-yard line to give Fairley at 22-0 halftime lead.

The third quarter was relatively even, as the Sikeston defense came out fired up. But Tim Kelly got free on a sideline pattern and ran 33 yards for the score on a pass from Luckett. Massey's second 2-point conversion gave the Memphis team a 30-0 lead and put a sag in the step of the Sikeston footballers.

The last score came from Jim McLaughlin, a senior reserve back. The 140-pound speedster took the ball on the 42yard line and ran right through the mingling Sikeston defenders for the final score of the night. Rank-conscious Fairley went for the two-point conversion, but it was no good.

Next game for the Bulldogs will be next Friday night at Kennett, a conference match. For years Sikeston has dominated the series. They have a victory edge over Kennett of 30 win and three losses.

Kennett now has 65 players with some football experience. Due to the departure of some early season prima-donnas Sikeston has about 35 from a school twice as big as Kennett.

Sikeston will go into the encounter a definite underdog, but with the work of the coaching staff and the senior leaders who remain, the Indians had better not look over Sikeston. What would happen? Just ask Farmington.

Eagle Star Injured

EAST PRAIRIE — The Portageville Bulldogs won their second in a row after a season- opening loss to Dexter, as they defeated Southern Conference rivals, the East Prairie Eagles, 21-8.

The Eagles suffered a damaging blow with the loss of sprinter Annise Davis from the lineup for about three weeks. This hurt East Prairie in the game and will surely hurt the Eagles in the weeks to come.

The Eagles gave the Bulldogs all they wanted and more. With the score at 14-8, late in the fourth quarter, the Eagles mounted a fairly good drive, but on first down from the Dogs' 40, the Eagles fumbled and then allowed the visitors a final score.

Fumbles were instrumental in the Bulldog win. Also big factors were Jim Bradfield and Mark Cross. The two led the Portageville defensive charge that shut down the entire Eagle offense, except for Steve Secoy. Secoy ran for 140 yards on 22 carries and was extremely effective in the absence of his runningmate, Davis.

Randy Williams scored two touchdowns for Portageville and Bradfield added the third. The only Eagle score came on a third period pass from quarterback Steve Husk to Myron Fry. Mike Secoy added the two - point conversion.

CHS Remains Winless

PERRYVILLE — Perryville's Pirates capitalized on their ability to control the ball during the first half of the game to shoot down the Charleston Blue Jays in a 23-0 fiasco. It was the fourth straight loss for CHS.

Perryville broke the ice in the first quarter as Roger Brewer hurled a 15-yard touchdown pass to running back Duane Hilton for the first score. David Meyr kicked the extra point. Meyr encored later in the period, kicking a 26-yard field goal.

Fullback Paul Clifton scored on a 10-yard romp in the second quarter, bringing the Pirates to a 16-0 edge. Dewayne grabbed another 15-yard TD pass from quarterback Brewer and Meyr kicked the extra point, also in the second period, to wind up the scoring, as both teams went scoreless through the second half.

Perryville Coach Terry Smith commented, "We were able to take the win by our recovery of the ball and field position. It was really too wet to operate."

The Pirates galloped for 100 yards rushing and an additional 31 yards in the air. The Blue Jays rushed for 54 yards and gained none passing.

Defensive End Billy Welden was a key link in the Pirate defensive barrier.

Next week, the Pirates take on the Herculaneum Blackcats. Charleston's Bluejays travel to Cairo, Ill.

POPLAR BLUFF — Jackson remained undefeated by beating Poplar Bluff 14-6 in a Northern division clash Friday night.

In the first quarter, John Casey hit Tutti Hayes with a 45- yard pass to give Poplar Bluff an early lead.

A deflected pass by Mark Jones in the second quarter was good for a 25- yard touchdown by Jackson's Terry Langston, making the score 7-6 at half, and it remained so throughout the third quarter.

Litzenfelder made the score 14-6 with a 30- yard intercepted pass return in the fourth period.

Fumbles hurt the Poplar Bluff team the most.

Next week Poplar Bluff goes up against De Andreis of St. Louis.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rodolfo Gonzales of Long Beach, Calif., is the first challenger to Chango Carmona, the World Boxing Council's new world lightweight champion.

Carmona agreed to the title fight here Nov. 18 Friday when he signed a contract calling for a 15-round bout to be held at the Los Angeles Sports Arena. Gonzales is rated No. 5 by the WBC and was the choice for the match after Pedro Carrasco of Spain turned down a $15,000 guarantee for the fight.

Carmona is 41-8 and Gonzales is 45-4. Both have knocked out 29 foes.

Carmona of Mexico City, won the title two weeks ago with an eight-round knockout of Mando Ramos.

Baltimore Eliminated

Bye, bye, Birdies.

And then there were three in the American League East pennant scramble with one of the survivors not in the very best of health.

Boston finished off Baltimore, elimanting the Orioles 4-2 Friday night with Carl Yastremski's two-run 10th inning homer applying the coup de grace.

Second place Detroit remained 1½ games behind with a 12-5 romp over over Milwaukee while the idle Yankees slipped four games behind and retained only a slim chance of forcing a playoff for the division crown.

In other games, Kansas Cith battered Oakland's West champs, 9-2, Chicago downed Texas 5-1 and California nipped Minnesota 2-1.

In the National League, St. Louis topped Chicago 4-1, New York shut out Pittsburgh 1-0, Cincinnati trimmed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston defeated San Diego 5-2 and San Francisco whacked Atlanta 14-3. Philadelphia's game at Montreal was postponed by rain.

With five games left for both Boston and Detroit, the Red Sox have a magic number of four to eliminate the Tigers and clinch baseball's last remaining division race.

The battle, almost certainly, will go down to the final threegame series between the two teams in Detroit next week.

Luis Tiant tossed a five-hitter to finish off the Orioles and end Baltimore's three-year reign atop the American League.

It was Tiant's 15th victory. Jim Palmer, 21-10, took the loss.

The Tigers kept pace, bombing three Milwaukee pitchers for 11 runs in the first three innings and coasting past the Brewers. Jim Northrup led the romp with five runs batted in. Willie

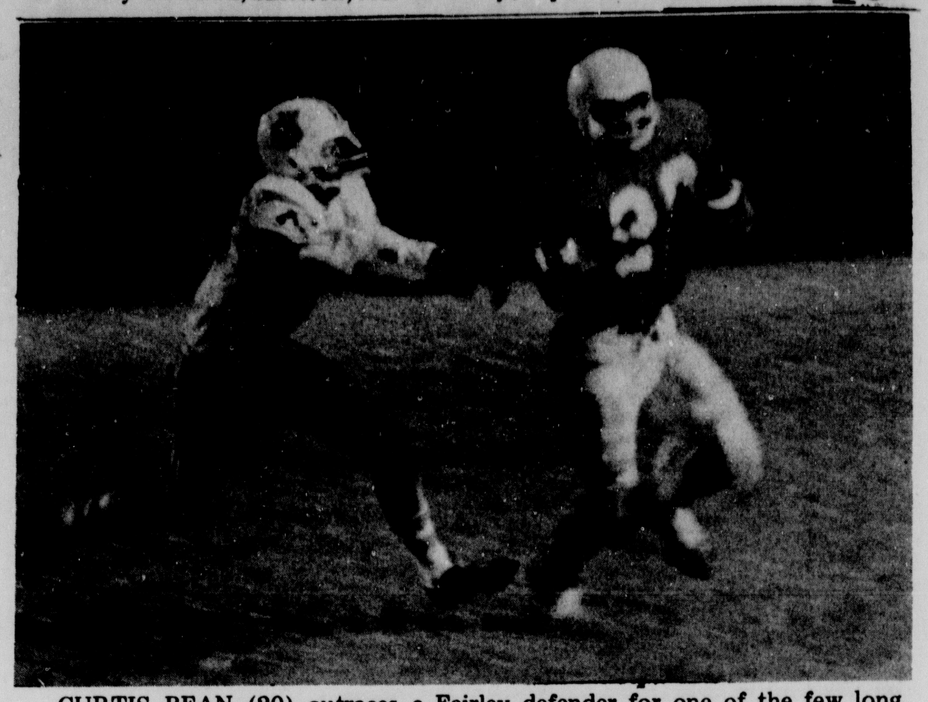
Horton contributed a two-run triple to trigger the Tiger barrage and Tony Taylor added a two-run pinch double.

By winning, Boston and Detroit not only eliminated Baltimore, but left the Yankees with only a thread of hope. The best New York can do is tie with Boston and to manage that, the Yankees will need a unique combination of circumstances.

First, they must win their remaining games and finish at 8471. If Boston loses four of its remaining five, the Sox would also be 84-71. The catch is that the one game Boston wins must come in its final three-game series at Detroit.

If the Tigers win two games in that series, but lose their other three, they would finish onehalf game behind.

All of that is contingent, of course, on the Red Sox losing two straight to Milwaukee before colliding next week. It is not the very best of chances for thenYanks but it's som3thing and that's more than the Orioles have left.



CURTIS BEAN (20) outraces a Fairley defender for one of the few long gainers the Sikeston Bulldogs were able to muster against their powerful Memphis, Tenn., visitors at Public School Stadium Friday night. SHS lost, 36-0.

Packers Still Fuming

The Green Bay Packers, who have been fuming all week, get a chance to take it out on the champion Dallas Cowboys in their National Football League game Sunday.

The Packers are steamed up because they feel they defeated Oakland last Sunday instead of losing 20-14 as the official records show. They claim Jack Tatum's record 104-yard touchdown run for the Raiders should not have counted because MacArthur Lane never had control of the ball on a forward pass. Officials ruled it a fumble.

In any event the Packers are 1-1 going against the 2-0 Cowboys who will be seeking their 13th straight victory in regular season, playoff and Super Bowl competition.

It's possible that the Packers will start rookie quarterback Jerry Tagge who led Nebraska to the national collegiate championship last year. Scott Hunter, the regular starter, has a back injury. Craig Morton again will direct the Cowboys.

Washington, tied with Dallas for first in the NFC East, plays at New England with Miami at Minnesota and the New York Jets at Houston.

In other gaoes Baltimore is at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Cleveland, Detroit at Chicago, Kansas City at Denver, Los Angeles at Atlanta, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, San Diego at Oakland, and San Francisco at New Orleans. The Nuw York Giants play at Philadelphia Monday night.

The Jets are a heavy favorite to beat the Oilers, but it's hardly likely that Joe Namath of the Jets will duplicate his feat of last week when he passed for six touchdowns against the Colts.

The Dolphins will rely on their hard running backs, Larry Csonka, Mercury Morris and Jim Kiick to try to beat the Vikings and stay tied with the Jets for first in the AFC East.

O. J. Simpson, who ran for 138 yards in leading the Bills over the 49ers last week, is hoping for another 100-plusyard game against the Colts.

And if veteran quarterback John Hadl of the Chargers can pass for 214 yards against the Raiders he will join the select group of NFL quarterbacks who have passed for 25,000 yards in their career.

Scorer Denies Clemente

Roberto Clemente thought he had it. Then he didn't. Now he's not sure he wants it that badly.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' w nder player appeared to have notched his 3,000th lifetime hit in a game with the New York Mets Friday night—until the official scorer ruled an error on the play.

Now, if the hit doesn't come this weekend, Clemente says that he's going to forget about it until next season.

"If I don't get the hit by Sunday, I won't get it this season," said Clemente after the Pirates lost a 1-0 decision to the Mets. "I won't play anymore after that until the playoffs. Being rested for the playoffs is more important to me than getting 3,000 hits."

The Pittsburgh right fielder was hitless in four trips against Tom Seaver, but he reached base in the first inning on a play that confused everybody at Three Rivers Stadium, including Clemente.

Although second baseman Ken Boswell bobbled Clemente's slow bouncer past the mound, the fans and umpires momentarily thought that it was hit No. 3,000.

The player was even presented the ball and he shook hands with Pittsburgh's first base coach, Don Leppert.

Then the "Error" sign flashed on the scoreboard.

"I had a better than average change of getting him," said Boswell. "I thought it was an error.

"There was no way he could get me," said Clemente, disputing Boswell's statement.

However, the slugging outfielder wasn't particularly upset.

"When I get No. 3,000, I want it to be a clean base hit—no question about it," said Clemente.

In Friday's other National League games, the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Chicago Cubs 4-1; the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1; the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants routed the Atlanta Braves 14-3. The game between Philadelphia and Montreal was rained out.

American League results: Boston 4, Baltimore 2 in 10 innings; Kansas City 5, Oakland 2; Chicago 5, Texas 1; Detroit 12, Milwaukee 5 and California 2, Minnesota 1.

Clemente's efforts for his 3,000th hit were frustrated by a hard-throwing Seaver, who also frustrated most of the other Pirates. He only allowed two hits in winning his 20th game.

"I was conscious of Clemente needing one more hit for 3,000," said Seaver. "But I figured if he got it, he got it. I was more concerned with winning 20."

Van Galder Will Start

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Offensive improvement is to be sought from both sides as the Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Cardinals collide in an interconference National Football League game here Sunday.

The Steelers, their outlook buoyed via a 34-28 upset over the Oakland Raiders opening day, were stalled last week 1510 by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Coach Bob Hollway's second edition of the Cardinals, projected for a doormat role in the National Conference East, jolted Baltimore 10-3 in their opener but sputtered in lost 24-10 last week to the Washington Redskins.

"You don't build a good running game overnight," said Hollway, whose team ranks last in the NFL with only 125 yards rushing in two games.

"We're trying to get the right combination together," Hollway added, "but I admit we're not playing well enough offensively to win."

St. Louis will open with vets Donny Anderson and Leon Burns at running back posts and 28-year-old rookie Tim Van Galder at quarterback.

Pittsburgh, its rushing led by quarterback Terry Bradhaw's 76 yards and three touchdowns, will have rookied Franco Harris at one running back position and Preston Pearson at the other.

The 6-foot-3 Bradhsaw has completed 25 of 51 passes for 294 yards and touchdown, while Van Galder's mark is 18 of 30 for 195 yards.

Despite two Van Galder interceptions leading t Redskins touchdowns, Hollway has chosen to stay with him at quarterback over veterans Gary Cuozzo and Jim Hart.

The meeting will be the first of the teams since 1969 prior to the NFL's merger with the American Football League. The Steelrs, of the American Conference Central, are 1-7-2 in St. Louis since the Cards moved here from Chicago in 1960.

Lemons Stars For DHS

DEXTER -- A blocked punt recovery by Robin Lemons in the last 47 seconds of play edged the Dexter Bearcats past the Hayti Indians in Friday night's confrontation. Lemons blocked the punt to gain a safety, breaking the scoreless deadlock.

Playing under much less than favorable conditions, the Bearcats illustrated a strong defense to halt the Indians, and at the same time, rushed for 60 yeads and attempted seven passes for one completion.

Hayti gained 37 yards rushing in the first half but were pushed back by the Bearcats in the second half to lose their accumulated yardage and finish with a three- yard loss. The Indians were two for 13 in the passing department.

Two fumbles lost and two intercepted passes by each team was the story for the Bearcats and the Indians. Dexter dug its way from 60 yards in penalties and Hayti suffered 10 yards loss for infractions.

The Bearcats host the East Prairie Eagles and Havti plays host to the Chaffee Red Devils next Friday.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Conquistadors, newest team in the American Basketball Association reached the league limit of 12 players by dropping four players Friday.

Cut from the roster were two veterans—guard Lonnie Wright and forward Bill Dinwiddie— and two rookies—forwards Ernie Fleming and Rich Schultz.

grid quiz

by Dave Nelson, executive secretary, NCAA Football Rules Committee

A Maine flanker, on first down, is positioned six yards outside the legal clipping zone at the snap. He moves toward the sideline and blocks a New Hampshire defensive halfback below the waist in the legal clipping zone extended to the sideline. The block by the Maine flanker occurs before the ball has advanced beyond the legal clipping zone extended to the sidelines. The play gains 12 yards.

The official should:

1. Award Maine a first down. The block was legal even though it was below the waist.

2. Penalize Maine 15 yards from the spot of the block below the waist.

3. Penalize Maine 15 yards from the spot of the snap for an illegal block below the waist.

Answer: Number 1. Award Maine a first down. The block was legal even though it was below the waist.

Rule: (9-1-2-e) Offensive players positioned five or more yards outside the legal clipping zone or in motion toward the ball at the snap are prohibited from blocking below the waist toward the ball in the clipping zone extended to the sidelines.

Baltimore Eliminated

Bye, bye, Birdies.

And then there were three in the American League East pennant scramble with one of the survivors not in the very best of health.

Boston finished off Baltimore, elimanting the Orioles 4-2 Friday night with Carl Yastremski's two-run 10th inning homer applying the coup de grace.

Second place Detroit remained 1½ games behind with a 12-5 romp over over Milwaukee while the idle Yankees slipped four games behind and retained only a slim chance of forcing a playoff for the division crown.

In other games, Kansas Cith battered Oakland's West champs, 9-2, Chicago downed Texas 5-1 and California nipped Minnesota 2-1.

In the National League, St. Louis topped Chicago 4-1, New York shut out Pittsburgh 1-0, Cincinnati trimmed Los Angeles 4-1, Houston defeated San Diego 5-2 and San Francisco whacked Atlanta 14-3. Philadelphia's game at Montreal was postponed by rain.

With five games left for both Boston and Detroit, the Red Sox have a magic number of four to eliminate the Tigers and clinch baseball's last remaining division race.

The battle, almost certainly, will go down to the final threegame series between the two teams in Detroit next week.

Luis Tiant tossed a five-hitter to finish off the Orioles and end Baltimore's three-year reign atop the American League.

It was Tiant's 15th victory. Jim Palmer, 21-10, took the loss.

The Tigers kept pace, bombing three Milwaukee pitchers for 11 runs in the first three innings and coasting past the Brewers. Jim Northrup led the romp with five runs batted in. Willie

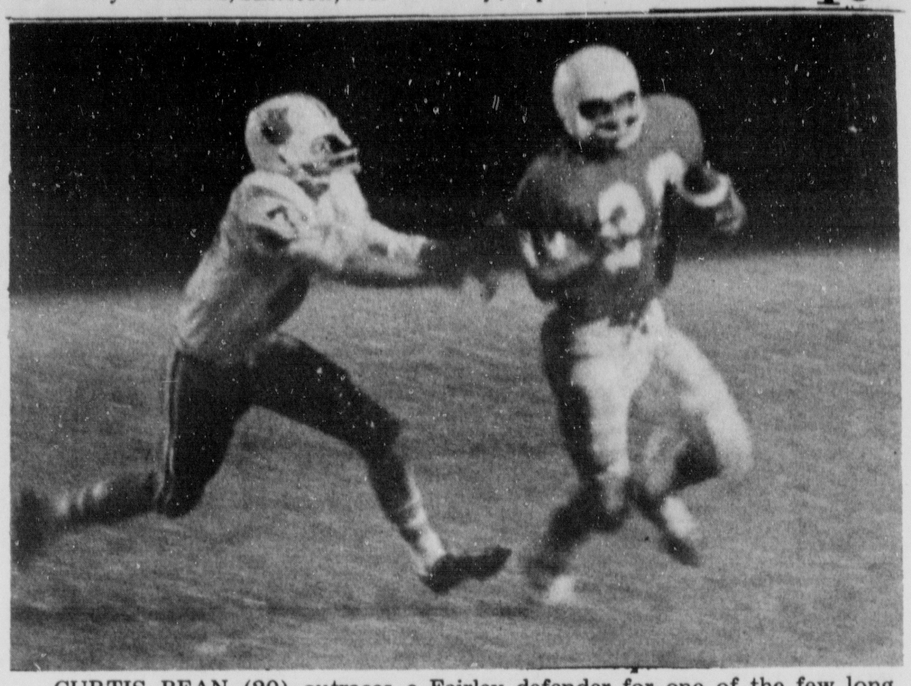
Horton contributed a two-run triple to trigger the Tiger barrage and Tony Taylor added a two-run pinch double.

By winning, Boston and Detroit not only eliminated Baltimore, but left the Yankees with only a thread of hope. The best New York can do is tie with Boston and to manage that, the Yankees will need a unique combination of circumstances.

First, they must win their remaining games and finish at 8471. If Boston loses four of its remaining five, the Sox would also be 84-71. The catch is that the one game Boston wins must come in its final three-game series at Detroit.

If the Tigers win two games in that series, but lose their other three, they would finish onehalf game behind.

All of that is contingent, of course, on the Red Sox losing two straight to Milwaukee before colliding next week. It is not the very best of chances for thenYanks but it's som3thing and that's more than the Orioles have left.



CURTIS BEAN (20) outraces a Fairley defender for one of the few long gainers the Sikeston Bulldogs were able to muster against their powerful Memphis, Tenn., visitors at Public School Stadium Friday night. SHS lost, 36-0.

Packers Still Fuming

The Green Bay Packers, who have been fuming all week, get a chance to take it out on the champion Dallas Cowboys in their National Football League game Sunday.

The Packers are steamed up because they feel they defeated Oakland last Sunday instead of losing 20-14 as the official records show. They claim Jack Tatum's record 104-yard touchdown run for the Raiders should not have counted because MacArthur Lane never had control of the ball on a forward pass. Officials ruled it a fumble.

In any event the Packers are 1-1 going against the 2-0 Cowboys who will be seeking their 13th straight victory in regular season, playoff and Super Bowl competition.

It's possible that the Packers will start rookie quarterback Jerry Tagge who led Nebraska to the national collegiate championship last year. Scott Hunter, the regular starter, has a back injury. Craig Morton again will direct the Cowboys.

Washington, tied with Dallas for first in the NFC East, plays at New England with Miami at Minnesota and the New York Jets at Houston.

In other gaoes Baltimore is at Buffalo, Cincinnati at Cleveland, Detroit at Chicago, Kansas City at Denver, Los Angeles at Atlanta, Pittsburgh at St. Louis, San Diego at Oakland, and San Francisco at New Orleans. The Nuw York Giants play at Philadelphia Monday night.

The Jets are a heavy favorite to beat the Oilers, but it's hardly likely that Joe Namath of the Jets will duplicate his feat of last week when he passed for six touchdowns against the Colts.

The Dolphins will rely on their hard running backs, Larry Csonka, Mercury Morris and Jim Kiick to try to beat the Vikings and stay tied with the Jets for first in the AFC East.

O. J. Simpson, who ran for 138 yards in leading the Bills over the 49ers last week, is hoping for another 100-plusyard game against the Colts.

And if veteran quarterback John Hadl of the Chargers can pass for 214 yards against the Raiders he will join the select group of NFL quarterbacks who have passed for 25,000 yards in their career.

Scorer Denies Clemente

Roberto Clemente thought he had it. Then he didn't. Now he's not sure he wants it that badly.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' w nder player appeared to have notched his 3,000th lifetime hit in a game with the New York Mets Friday night—until the official scorer ruled an error on the play.

Now, if the hit doesn't come this weekend, Clemente says that he's going to forget about it until next season.

"If I don't get the hit by Sunday, I won't get it this season," said Clemente after the Pirates lost a 1-0 decision to the Mets. "I won't play anymore after that until the playoffs. Being rested for the playoffs is more important to me than getting 3,000 hits."

The Pittsburgh right fielder was hitless in four trips against Tom Seaver, but he reached base in the first inning on a play that confused everybody at Three Rivers Stadium, including Clemente.

Although second baseman Ken Boswell bobbled Clemente's slow bouncer past the mound, the fans and umpires momentarily thought that it was hit No. 3,000.

Then the "Error" sign flashed on the scoreboard.

"I had a better than average change of getting him," said Boswell. "I thought it was an error.

"There was no way he could get me," said Clemente, disputing Boswell's statement.

However, the slugging outfielder wasn't particularly upset.

"When I get No. 3,000, I want it to be a clean base hit—no question about it," said Clemente.

In Friday's other National League games, the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Chicago Cubs 4-1; the Cincinnati Reds trimmed the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-1; the Houston Astros defeated the San Diego Padres 5-2 and the San Francisco Giants routed the Atlanta Braves 14-3. The game between Philadelphia and Montreal was rained out.

American League results: Boston 4, Baltimore 2 in 10 innings; Kansas City 5, Oakland 2; Chicago 5, Texas 1; Detroit 12, Milwaukee 5 and California 2, Minnesota 1.

Clemente's efforts for his 3,000th hit were frustrated by a hard-throwing Seaver, who also frustrated most of the other Pirates. He only allowed two hits in winning his 20th game.

"I was conscious of Clemente needing one more hit for 3,000," said Seaver. "But I figured if he got it, he got it. I was more concerned with winning 20."

Van Galder Will Start

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Offensive improvement is to be sought from both sides as the Pittsburgh Steelers and St. Louis Cardinals collide in an interconference National Football League game here Sunday.

The Steelers, their outlook buoyed via a 34-28 upset over the Oakland Raiders opening day, were stalled last week 1510 by the Cincinnati Bengals.

Coach Bob Hollway's second edition of the Cardinals, projected for a doormat role in the National Conference East, jolted Baltimore 10-3 in their opener but sputtered in lost 24-10 last week to the Washington Redskins.

"You don't build a good running game overnight," said Hollway, whose team ranks last in the NFL with only 125 yards rushing in two games.

St. Louis will open with vets Donny Anderson and Leon Burns at running back posts and 28-year-old rookie Tim Van Galder at quarterback.

Pittsburgh, its rushing led by quarterback Terry Bradhaw's 76 yards and three touchdowns, will have rookied Franco Harris at one running back position and Preston Pearson at the other.

The 6-foot-3 Bradhsaw has completed 25 of 51 passes for 294 yards and touchdown, while Van Galder's mark is 18 of 30 for 195 yards.

Despite two Van Galder interceptions leading t Redskins touchdowns, Hollway has chosen to stay with him at quarterback over veterans Gary Cuozzo and Jim Hart.

The meeting will be the first of the teams since 1969 prior to the NFL's merger with the American Football League. The Steelrs, of the American Conference Central, are 1-7-2 in St. Louis since the Cards moved here from Chicago in 1960.

Lemons Stars For DHS

DEXTER -- A blocked punt recovery by Robin Lemons in the last 47 seconds of play edged the Dexter Bearcats past the Hayti Indians in Friday night's confrontation. Lemons blocked the punt to gain a safety, breaking the scoreless deadlock.

Playing under much less than favorable conditions, the Bearcats illustrated a strong defense to halt the Indians, and at the same time, rushed for 60 yeads and attempted seven passes for one completion.

Hayti gained 37 yards rushing in the first half but were pushed back by the Bearcats in the second half to lose their accumulated yardage and finish with a three- yard loss. The Indians were two for 13 in the passing department.

Two fumbles lost and two intercepted passes by each team was the story for the Bearcats and the Indians. Dexter dug its way from 60 yards in penalties and Hayti suffered 10 yards loss for infractions.

The Bearcats host the East Prairie Eagles and Havti plays host to the Chaffee Red Devils next Friday.

A Maine flanker, on first down, is positioned six yards outside the legal clipping zone at the snap. He moves toward the sideline and blocks a New Hampshire defensive halfback below the waist in the legal clipping zone extended to the sideline. The block by the Maine flanker occurs before the ball has advanced beyond the legal clipping zone extended to the sidelines. The play gains 12 yards.

1. Award Maine a first down. The block was legal even though it was below the waist.

2. Penalize Maine 15 yards from the spot of the block below the waist.

3. Penalize Maine 15 yards from the spot of the snap for an illegal block below the waist.

Answer: Number 1. Award Maine a first down. The block was legal even though it was below the waist.

Rule: (9-1-2-e) Offensive players positioned five or more yards outside the legal clipping zone or in motion toward the ball at the snap are prohibited from blocking below the waist toward the ball in the clipping zone extended to the sidelines.

Nixon Signs Salt Agreement Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a history-laden White House chamber, President Nixon today signs a congressional resolution approving the U.S.-Soviet agreement to freeze most of the two superpowers' nuclear arsenal for five years.

Four months to the day after he concluded the Moscow summit talks which produced historic arms-limitation accords, Nixon arranged to sign to the resolution adopted after protracted Senate debate.

About a score of congressional leaders were invited to the ceremony in the White House treaty room.

The interim agreement drafted by Nixon and Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev covers offensive weapons and gives the Soviet Union a numerical advantage in landbased and submarine-launched missiles.

It was this numerical edge which led Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., to press for an amendment—finally adopted after a month of debate—stipulating that there should be equality in the number of weapons in any future treaty on strategic arms.

The Jackson amendment, which was endorsed by the Nixon administration although White House officials took exception to some interpretations of its language, urges the President to seek an arms treaty which "would not limit the United States to levels of intercontinental strategic forces inferior to the limits provided for the Soviet Union."

The Senate adopted the resolution with the Jackson amendment Sept. 14, and the House then accepted the Senate version.

The original House version merely endorsed and approved the interim agreement without reference to the future talks.

Negotiations for the permanent treaty—the so-called SALT 2 talks—could begin this fall. The talks leading to the interim agreement stretched over several years and, referring to SALT 2, Nixon said last week "those negotiations will not be easy."

BUDDY SYSTEM has been used to good effect on the campaign trail by Democratic nominee George McGovern, whose appearances in several cities with Sen. Edward Kennedy have been crowd drawers.

Dear Caroline:

Thanks a million for sending me the newspaper clipping with the photographs concerning Denver Wright! I really enjoyed reading the story.

Denver is an old friend. But haven't seen him in 15 years. As you probably know, he flies airplanes and we were together on flights at different times.

Once many years ago, I was flying down through the Caribbean and ran into him on one of the islands. He was going one way and I was going another.

Again, many thanks. Best wishes to you and yours!

Opponent Criticizes Danforth

JEFFERSON CITY — Democratic candidate for attorney general, James Spain, has criticized Atty. Gen. John Danforth for dealying a decision that could save Missouri consumers millions of dollars.

At issue is whether the cost of returnable bottles is taxable. "Presently, sales tax on beverages is imposed on the cost of the beverages as well as the cost of the returnable bottles," Spain explained. "The tax imposed is the same whether or not the consumer has empty bottles to trade in.

"The legality of this procedure has been questioned," Spain noted, "and the attorney general has been formally asked to render a legal opinion. That was two months ago and still there has been no response from the attorney general. While he has delayed, thousands of Missourians have paid thousands of dollars in sales tax that, perhaps, they should not have had to pay," Spain stated. "Each additional day adds thousands more," he said.

"The law may be administered correctly," Spain pointed out. "If so, I believe the law should be amended to prevent the unintended double taxation. On the other hand, the law, as it is presently written, may not require the sales tax to be imposed on the returnable bottles. Missouri consumers want to know what their attorney general thinks," Spain stated.

"A member of the General Assembly has asked the attorney general; the Department of Revenue has asked the attorney general. How long do we have to wait for a decision?

"If the attorney general is really sincere about his concern for the consumers, if he really listens to the people of this state, he should show it by rendering a decision on this issue without further delay. How much longer do Missouri consumers have to pay for the attorney general's indecisions?" Spain asked.

Youth Hurt In Bicycle Wreck

BENTON — David Kevin Swinger, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swinger of Benton, was injured in an accident at 5:45 Thursday afternoon when struck by a car while riding his bicycle.

He received a broken right leg and was taken to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Scott County Deputy Jack Stewart said the boy was coming off a side road onto Highway 61 when a car driven by Debra Ann Wendel of Illmo struck the bicycle.

Old Sisters Row In Streets

LEICESTER, England (AP) — Police officers in two squad cars braced for trouble when they raced through this Midlands city today to handle a reported street brawl.

But instead of two gangs of battling thugs they found two spinster sisters — aged 93 and 84.

They were apparently fighting over what brand of beer they should drink with their dinner.

It took burly ex-army boxing referee Sidney Machin to pull the two white-haired sisters apart.

"They lived together for 50 years," Machin, a neighbor, explained. "I suppose they're entitled to their differences."

Officer Starts Rabbit Patrol

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police Sgt. Joseph Reiner was on night patrol when he saw a woman jump out of a car and begin chasing a white rabbit.

After getting an explanation ("If we don't get it back my little girl will be heart broken."), Reiner took up the chase.

After six blocks he slipped and fell, tearing the elbow out of his shirt. The rabbit was only 10 feet away, but it bounded away as soon as Reiner muttered something at it.

Reiner gave up and returned to his car to radio: "Officer needs help."

Two other police cars screeched up in response to the emergency call, not knbwing what to expect. "I didn't quite know how to tell them I was chasing a rabbit," Reiner explained after the incident Tuesday.

Within an hour, one of the five officers grabbed the rabbit beneath a car and delivered it to the woman.

Reiner has become known among his colleagues as "Rabbit Man."

Q. I wish NBC wouldn't mislead those of us who are dyed-in-the-wool mystery fans with a title like "Mystery Movie" and then serve up mild comedy and unlimited romance in their "McMillan and Wife" show. I stayed with it, trying to see the show's merit, but I decided it was much more bedroom comedy than mystery. If they call it "Mystery Movie," why not present a mystery? As for "Columbo" and "McCloud," they are better but not mysteries either. L.L., Wichita, Kans.

A. You have a good point there. However, TV has always done this and will probably continue to do so. A better and more accurate title for the Columbo-McCloud-McMilland Wife shows would be "Three-in-One."

Q. I have a bet with a friend that all three supporting male regulars of the old "Perry Mason Show," namely William Talman, William Hopper, and Ray Collins, have passed away. Am I right? —S.O., Tampa Fla.

A. You are correct. All three character actors are dead.

Q. I am confused about something that I wish you would clear up for me. Is the actor called Peter Mark Richman, who is in "Longstreet," the same actor who was once known merely as Mark Richman? —Mrs. A.V., Albany N.Y.

A. For reasons best known by the actor, Mark Richman decided to become Peter Mark Richman a little over a year ago.

Q. When will John Lennon't TV special be on TV? I heared in the next few months and I would like to know a more specific date, if one is set. I am a John Lennon freak and I dig his new album, "Imagine," more than anything the Beatles turned out when they were all together. —M.F., Memphis, Tenn.

A. You have been misled ... John Lennon is not set to star in a TV special of his own. As for his latest solo album, "Imagine," it is very high on the best-seller charts.

What You Want To Know

Q. My sister and I are senior citizens and our only pleasure is TV. Please let us know where we can send a fan letter to Efrem Zimbalist, Jr. We watch "The F.B.I." each week without fail and we would like to send him a letter. —The Senior Sister, Lehigh Valley, Pa.

A. You may address your compliments to Mr. Zimbalist, in care of Warner Bros. Studios, Burbank, Calif.

Q. I think "The Persuaders" is a really good TV show. I think Roger Moore is the handsomest and the coolest actor on TV. I also never noticed how adept a comedian Tony Curtis was until this series. Is the show doing well? I am a fan but I seldom pick the winners. —R.K., Paramus, N.J.

A. Your record stays unblemished ..."The Persuaders" is not a big hit according to the ratings. As for Roger Moore, he has been charming women and making men jealous since his days as TV's "The Saint." Tony Curtis has made a number of film comedies in which he sharpened his comedy acting tools, the most memorable being "Some Like It Hot."

Q. I never get a chance to see the cast credits on my favorite TV soap opera and I wish you would print a list of the actors who play the following parts: Dr. Tracy Graham, Red Wilson, Sylvia Bancroft, Ann Jones, Howard Jones, Stewart Pierce, Dr. Amanda Winninger and Isabel Jones —Mrs. F.B., Memphis, Tenn.

A. Here is a castlist: Dr. Tracy Graham is played by Dabney Coleman; Red Wilson by Richard Eastham; Sylvia Bancroft by Regina Gleason; Ann Jones by Gail Kobe, Howard Jones is played by Mark Miller; Stuart Pierce by Peter Ratray; June Vincent plays Dr. Winninger, and Lesley Woods is Miss Jones.

Q. In what year was the film "House of Strangers" filmed; I have seen this film a number of times on TV, and it is great. It is a favorite of both my husband and me, but we disagree about when it was first released. I say in the early '40s and he says in the early '50s. —Mrs. T.T., San Antonio Tex.

A. "House of Strangers," which starred Edward G. Robinson, Richard Conte, and Susan Hayward, was released in 1949.

Q. Is Ben Gazzara, who was so great in "Run for Your Life," going to appear on TV? I think he's different from most of the other actors on TV these days and I would like to see him either in his own series again or as a guest star. What's the buzz about him? —J. F., Sacramento, Calif.

A. —Ben Gazarra seems to be staying away from TV at present. He has no series plans as far as we can determine, but he will probably go the guest-star route, when and if he chooses to work on TV.

Q. I just want to say that I can't remember enjoying a talk show guest more than Charlton Heston on "The Dick Cavett Show." Heston was so intelligent, attractive, and witty that I was sorry to see the 90 minutes end. Is there a chance that Heston will apeear on TV in a series of his own; —N.D., Fairfield, Conn.

A. Charlton Heston is one of the film industry's few remaining top stars and chances are very slim that he will take on a TV series. I second your opinion about Heston's display of charm and grace during his recent session with Dick Cavett.

SIKESTON WAS WATCHED all through the day and into the night Sunda by this "unidentified flying object" as it roamed the skies of Southeast Missour Daily Standard wire editor Tim Ludwig braved the fears that left Sikeston street desolate Sunday night to capture this dramtic proof that the city was invaded b something unknown. (Actually, he took one photograph late Sunday afternoo of the final weather baloon released from Cape Girardeau Municipal Airport then came back Sunday night to photograph the Front Street scene, the combined the two.)

...Just A Lot Of Gas

By TIM LUDWIG

Sightings began to be reported to local radio stations by mid- morning Sunday. During the early part of the day and up until just before sundown, only a few area people were aware of the object floating high in the bright Sikeston skies. It just seemed to wait up there without moving at all until nearly sundown when the blue skies began to turn black around it, and the object took on the intensity of a second sun.

It was about that time that the calls increased all over Southeast Missouri that some sort of an invasion had begun from the air, perhaps even from far out into space. Some of the callers were frightened by the possibilities of UFO's. Others expressed amazement that anything short of the sun could glow so brightly from so far away.

Some people even realized the true situation and called to alay the fears of others with explanations that the "UFO" was only one of the series of weather ballons launched by study groups at Cape Girardeau Municipal Airport.

Actually, it was only on of those rumor- launchin weather balloons; but, a Daily Standard wire editor Tim Ludwig proved with double- exposur photograph, it doesn't tak too much imagination to b convinced that, for a while a least, Sikeston was bein invaded.

Winning first place and $100 was the Junior Women's Club of Sikeston Second place prize of $7 went to Malco Theatres. The third place prize of $50 went to the Bernie Future Farmer of America.
